Navy Reveals Loss of 5 U. S. Transports

THREE OTHERS DAMAGED OFF NORTH AFRICA

Destroyer, Tanker Also Hit During Occupation of French Territory.

CASUALTIES WITHHELD

Navy Says Kin Being Notified of Losses Off Casablanca, Algiers and Rabat.

(By Associated Press)

WASHINGTON—The navy department announced today that five United States Naval transports were lost during the occupation of North Africa by United States forces.

Three other transports, one destroyer, and one tanker were damaged during the operation.

The transports sunk were listed in the communique as the Tasker H. Bliss, the Hugh L. Scott, and the Edward Rutledge, which were sunk off Casablanca; the Joseph Hewes, sunk off Rabat and the Leedstown, sunk off Algiers.

A navy spokesman said casualties were very small.

The early morning communique said the next of kin of personnel killed, wounded or missing were being notified by telegram.

The names of the damaged vessels were not disclosed.

Communique, number 209, follows: (about 100):

Africa:

"1. The following United States naval transports were lost during the early part of November as a result of enemy submarine torpedoes during the occupation of North Africa by United States forces.

"(A) The Tasker H Bliss, Hugh L. Scott and the Edward Rutledge were sunk off Casablanca.

"(B) The Joseph Hewes was sunk off Rabat.

"(C) The Leedstown was sunk off Algiers.

"2. Three other United States transports, one U. S. destroyer and one U. S. tanker were damaged during the operation.

"3. The next of kin of personnel killed, wounded, or missing are being notified by telegram as soon as information is received."

This was the navy's first com-

How Mansfield Sidewalks Look to Pedestrians

Scenes like this were common in Mansfield yesterday and today as many property owners in the business and residential districts failed to shovel the snow from their walks. Pedestrians had to wear high-top overshoes and hold onto something to get over sections of the unshoveled walks. The upper left photo shows a walk on Park avenue west with the snow packed into rough ice. You would almost need snowshoes or skis to get over the section of Glesner avenue walk pictured in the upper right photo. The walk shown in the lower photo is near General hospital, probably a fortunate location for the pedestrian who happened to fall on the jagged ice.

$100,000 FIRE AT NEW LONDON

Fire Chief, Spectator Hurt as Wind-Fanned Blaze Levels Business Block.

NEW LONDON—One of the most disastrous fires in New London's history destroyed almost an entire business block last night, causing damage estimated at nearly $100,000 before it was brought under control.

Believed to have started from an over-heated stove in the Leasure apartments back of a beauty shop on Main street, the flames destroyed four buildings and damaged three others. The New London, Ashland and Norwalk fire departments battled the blaze from 9:30 p. m. until 1:30 a. m. as a strong wind made their task more difficult.

Two persons, including Fire Chief R. J. Bruce of New London, were injured, neither believed seriously. The fire chief suffered bruises when a fire hose he was holding broke under the water pressure and the end whipped back and struck him in the stomach, knocking him down. H. R. Culbertson, New London, suffered back injuries

Women Voters Start Drive To Clear Walks of Snow, Ice

The Mansfield League of Women Voters today had started a move to get the ice cleaned off the city's sidewalks. The organization, however, apparently was receiving little encouragement from the city.

Members of the league's executive board agreed to call Service Safety Director Fred B. Wolff urging him to see that the walks are cleaned, Mrs. D. O. Meese, league president said.

She suggested that the city use a small scraper to remove the ice and snow and charge the cost to the property owners who refuse or fail to clean their walks.

When Mrs. A. M. Colby, chairman of a special committee of the league, took the suggestion to Wolff, she said he told her that council would have to set up funds for the work or the workers would not be paid until the penalty could be collected with property taxes.

Pointing out that the city already has an ordnance requiring property owners to keep their walks clear, Mrs. Meese today asked, "Why don't we put the ordinance into effect?"

She added that if the city has no funds for the work and is unable to hire workers, officials could warn property owners to clean their walks to avoid a penalty.

"About the only thing we can do in the residential districts is to appeal to property owners to clear their own walks," Mrs. Meese said.

She said it was more important than ever that walks are kept free of ice and snow this winter because more people are walking to work.

PRAISES ALLIES

Eisenhower Congratulates North Africans.

ALLIED HEADQUARTERS IN NORTH AFRICA—(U.P.)—Lieut. Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower today addressed a proclamation to the people of North Africa congratulating them, together with Admiral Jean Francois Darlan and Gen. Henri Giraud "on the manner in which they have rallied to our cause in order to save France."

Eisenhower warned the people of North Africa that they would have to face even further sacrifices in order to "achieve our goal."

"You must sacrifice for days to come," the proclamation said. "Military needs must come first, food supplies later. Then we can allow liberty and prosperity to return."

Manager Asserts Retailers Can't Survive Restrictions.

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Fred A. Baughan, general manager of the Retail Food Dealers of California, predicted today that unless grocery stores are relieved from impractical price restrictions they would be forced out of business and the government would have to feed the people through food dispensing stations.

"We seem to be heading for a combination of technocracy and state socialism." Baughan told the joint committee on reduction of non-essential federal expenditures.

"If we don't get some relief, the retail food stores will be forced to close," he added. The committee is investigating the possibility of eliminating useless government questionnaires and reports.

Keep the War News Good, Buy Bonds on Pearl Harbor Day

The best way Mansfielders can help to keep the war news good—and it certainly has been good for the past two weeks—is to buy war bonds.

The best day to buy them is Dec. 7, first anniversary of Pearl Harbor.

That was the suggestion of the December war bond sales committee, which is seeking to hit a $100,000 total in war bond sales on that date.

Committee leaders pointed out that American fighting men now reaching the battle fronts have equipment of all kinds that is superior in quantity and quality to that of the enemy. Our planes are better, our ships are more powerful, our tanks are proven better—in short, the stuff the Americans fight with is better than the stuff they fight against.

It is the dollars that go to Uncle Sam through war bond purchases, the committee statement continued, that provide the planes, the ships, the tanks, the

RATIONING HIKES BUS LOAD 2,000

Figures on First Day of Gas Program Show 22 Per Cent Increase in City.

Mansfield city buses carried 2,129 more passengers Tuesday, the first day gasoline rationing was in effect, than they did on Tuesday of the preceding week, according to statistics revealed today by G. F. Van Tilburg, general superintendent of the Rapid Transit company.

This was an increase of 22.8 per cent, VanTilburg explained, in the passenger service including those paying fares and traveling by transfers. Whether the business has increased since Tuesday could not be definitely determined, since drivers do not file their reports until later in the day, but Van Tilburg indicated that Wednesday's and Thursday's fares were expected to top Tuesday's peak.

Meanwhile, the new office of the gasoline panel in the front rooms of the Mohican Building, over the Woolworth store, was jammed to capacity by truckers seeking ration cards or temporary

2 ABOVE ZERO

Mercury Hits Low Mark For Winter; Cold to Stay.

Coldest weather of the season blew into the Mansfield area last night with a blizzard which dropped the mercury to two above zero early today.

Although the weatherman said the savage wind would slacken today and the snow is over, he promised little relief from the frigid weather. Clear skies were expected to help keep the mercury to near the zero mark tonight.

The Mansfield reading this morning was one of the lowest in the state, Springfield reporting zero for the low mark. It was two below at Fort Wayne, Ind. The mercury had climbed only to 10 above by noon in Mansfield.

Firemen answered three alarms last night, one at the Haring apartment annex, 151 West Third street, another at the Frank Duff home, 555 Highland avenue, and the other on North Main street where an automobile caught fire. Minor damage was reported.

NUMBER GAMES QUIT RUNNING IN CITY, REPORT

Operators Said to Have Shut Down After Police Chief's Gambling Edict.

NO ORDERS GIVEN

Bell Says No Reports Made By Night Captains on Shut Off of Play.

Numbers operators today were reported to have quit business in fear of police reprisals under Chief Thomas M. Bell's edict that warrants will be issued for violators of his anti-gambling orders to be issued to all members of the department this week.

Their action followed closely on Bell's declaration that "as long as I'm in the saddle I'll do my own riding" and was in accompaniment with the announcement that the city Civil Service commission had advised Meade K. Bates that he must resume his post as police chief by Jan. 14, relinquishing his duties with the Federal Bureau of Investigation, or forfeit seniority rights.

Bates has been on leave, granted by council for the duration of the war emergency at the request of the FBI, but the civil service commission ruled Tuesday night that a leave cannot extend beyond one year. Attorney George W. Biddle, commission president, said the commission acted under advice of the state civil service commission which has no control over the municipal body, but had directed attention to a finding of the Columbus city commission.

Bates has served approximately 19 years on the police department and had been appointed chief by former Mayor Earl McFarland. He could not be reached at FBI offices in Cleveland today to determine whether he intends to continue in federal service under council's approval or return to his post here.

Biddle said yesterday that Bates first requested a ruling on his leave last Friday or Saturday. He also explained that earlier in the week Civil Service Member Tom Woodard, while in Columbus on other business, had visited the state commission offices to ask for a ruling on leaves, but without knowledge that the Bates case

Hits Plan Paying Some, Not Others In Ration Set-Up

Why volunteer help, with no remuneration whatsoever, should have to be responsible for the gigantic gasoline rationing job while other divisions of the OPA, not as busy at the present time, should be alloted adequate budgets for paying their employes, was the basis of a complaint voiced today by Emerson S. Weller, a member of the gasoline panel. Weller formerly served on the sugar ration board.

"I am not complaining because I have donated six months of my own time," Weller began, "but why should we of the gasoline panel have to solicit volunteer workers and even the loan of furniture for our office

NEWSBOYS NEAR $100,000 SALE

War Stamp Sales Hit $90,765 On News-Journal Routes.

With about six weeks to go to complete their first year of war stamp selling, News-Journal carriers are within striking distance of a total sale of $100,000, a check of sales to date reveals.

Selling 10-cent stamps throughout The News-Journal's circulation area, the total as of Dec. 1 was $90,765, representing the sale of 905,765 stamps.

Sale of war stamps was begun Jan. 17, 1942, and by that date next year, the carriers expect to reach the $100,000 mark.

British Naval Guns Destroy Enemy Convoy

Prevent Arrival of Reinforcements to Battle Americans and Allies In Bizerte, Tunis Area; British Tally Earlier Sea Losses.

BULLETIN

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Liberia, on the strategic west coast of Africa, has granted air base rights to the United States for the duration of the war.

(By Associated Press)

LONDON—British naval guns have sunk four more enemy merchantmen and two destroyers bound for Tunisia with reinforcements for the Axis in the decisive battle for Bizerte and Tunis in which the opening shots apparently already have been fired, it was announced today.

The timely naval blow was struck on the night of Dec. 1, the admiralty said, and deprived the enemy of sorely needed fresh strength to face British and American troops converging on the bomb-battered Axis strongholds after smashing a German counter-attack which touched off the heaviest fighting of the Tunisian campaign.

No British ship suffered damage or casualties in the battle with the convoy, but the relatively new destroyer Quentin was sunk later on the way to her base.

The Italians, in what appeared to be their version of the same action, said one Italian destroyer was sunk Tuesday night and a British cruiser was blown up in "a brief but violent naval encounter." German planes were said to have damaged a British destroyer and sunk a light unit the next day.

The Berlin radio said a British cruiser of the 9,850-ton London class also was torpedoed by a U-boat in the western Mediterranean "and its sinking may be reckoned with. Bomb hits were said to have brought another British destroyer to a stop off the Algerian coast.

There was no confirmation for any of these enemy claims.

In fact, the assault on the convoy was another chapter in the Allied sea successes in the North African zone.

In waters made hazardous by enemy submarines and closeness to Axis air bases, H. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty, informed the house of commons today, naval losses were much smaller than had been expected and "far less than the enemy claimed."

He named only 11 warships lost, the biggest of which was the British aircraft carrier Avenger, possibly a converted merchantman.

Two others were the former United States coast guard cutters Walney and Hartland which smashed through the harbor boom at Oran and sank, Alexander said, in a "gallant attempt" to prevent the scuttling

BEATEN OFF: Jap Ships Run From Buns Under Stiff Attack

(By International News Service)

UNITED NATIONS HEADQUARTERS IN AUSTRALIA—A Japanese naval convoy, including four destroyers heavily covered by enemy aircraft, which sought to reinforce beleaguered Jap troops in the Gona-Buna area of New Guinea was forced to abandon the attempt and withdraw as a result of terrific day and night assaults by Allied airmen who shot down 23 of the escorting Japanese planes, it was announced today.

American and Allied troops, combatting fierce resistance by the Japs, penetrated into the outskirts of Buna village and drove in beyond Gona to the north from the left.

The Allied forces smashing forward in the Gona area, an official communique said, are advancing along the beach toward the center of the Japanese position at Sanananda point, mid-way between Gona and Buna.

The advances in both sectors against the Japs hemmed in along the coast were achieved by heavy artillery bombardment in conjunction with strong bombing and strafing attacks by Allied air units.

The communique reported that the Americans and Australians presently are mopping up several enemy strong points overrun in concerted attacks.

Concerning the repulse of the Jap convoy, the communique said:

"Throughout the afternoon and night our air force heavily engaged enemy naval forces covered by an air escort off the coast which was attempting to reinforce the enemy's ground forces.

"Twenty-three planes were shot down and others damaged. The naval convoy was forced to withdraw. Our air losses were light."

AGAIN: Reds Capture Second Nazi Position Near Stalingrad

(By Associated Press)

BULLETIN

LONDON—(INS)—Soviet troops have bypassed the German-held key point of Rzhev to the northwest and southwest, Exchange Telegraph reported from Moscow tonight.

MOSCOW—The Soviet noon communique reported today the capture of another fortified height in the Stalingrad area, the second to be announced in successive communiques, and declared that actions on the fronts west of Moscow and south of Leningrad resulted in the slaying of more than 2,000 Germans in two days' fighting.

East of Velkie Luki Red army forces repulsed three enemy attacks, killed more than 600 and knocked out six German tanks, the war bulletin said, in liberating "several populated places."

"West of Rzhev our tanks killed 800 Germans in two days, captured three radio stations and two ammunition dumps," it reported.

The communique also cited action on the Leningrad front where it listed about 600 Germans killed in two days of battle.

The height reported taken in the fighting during last night was placed northwest of Stalingrad. Previously a communique had said a strategic elevation on the southwest approaches to Stalingrad had been stormed and captured.

Four tri-motored German transport planes were among the seven enemy aircraft the Russians said they destroyed in fighting in the Stalingrad area.

In another sector before Stalingrad, the communique reported that artillery fire had blown up a large enemy ammunition dump.

The Moscow radio said that the Soviet advance along the railway line southwest of Stalingrad had

CHAPTER XXXII

Livia tried to keep her eyes open as a bombardment of flashlights exploded in her face. She suddenly felt alone, lost in a glare that cut her off from human contact. She heard her voice far away telling them that she was happy to be there and that she hoped they would not be disappointed with her.

Then somehow she was inside the theater. People filled the aisles, and girls and boys passed in a never-ending stream, seeking her autograph. A policeman came to her rescue.

Livia had sent a ticket to her father. But she had not expected him to be there. He had just left the hospital and was to go to the Santa Barbara sanatarium the next day. She was fearful for a moment when she saw him. But he was sober. He was sitting between Vera and George. They had returned from Mexico a month ago. And George had a job. He was a detective with a local bureau. Her father nodded and smiled, and brought his hands together in the manner of a prize fighter taking applause. She smiled back, imitating his gesture.

"Good luck, Livia," a voice said in her ear. Charles Fordyce patted her back.

"Good luck," she whispered back.

Then the lights in the house darkened.

The three hours that followed were among the most wretched of Livia's young life. Why had she ever considered herself an actress? She was wooden, and her voice was harsh. And her smile—what had happened to her smile? Every time she was supposed to smile she merely bared her teeth in a terrifying grimace. It was awful. Her cheeks flamed in the darkness.

After the scene where her husband flung her to the ground, and she pleaded with him to come back, there was shrill applause. It was for him, of course.

She closed here eyes and wished she could creep unnoticed out of the theater. There was a sudden spurt of laughter, and she opened her eyes. The comedian was getting the laughs predicted by Fordyce. You gave people so much drama, then you brought them down with a laugh.

Livia smiled and forgot that this was her picture. She almost enjoyed some of the drama—if she didn't look too closely at herself. And she was just thinking that if some of the early part could be remade, it might not be so awful, when they came to the last scene and her death.

She lowered her head in embarrassment. Why was she making those hideous faces? She was completely deflated of ego. "If only I'd stayed at home," she said miserably to herself.

There was a sudden loud noise in the theater. They were booing her, was her first thought, and then she realized it was applause. The lights were on and the people were clapping and stamping, and crowding her.

"You were wonderful, Livia," they said in different ways. Her father nodded his approval, then disappeared in the crowd which was sweeping him to the exit.

"Livia, darling!" Vera kissed her. "Be happy," she whispered.

Livia fought her tears. She didn't believe them. Always at a premiere everyone congratulated everyone else. Oh, no, they couldn't fool her. Hadn't she seen the film herself? But here was Charles Fordyce, and he was smiling.

"You were as good as I knew you'd be," he said. "You're the hottest thing in the business."

"But I was terrible," she said to him unhappily.

"Keep thinking that, and you'll keep on improving," Charles said. "I'll see you at Ciro's."

Livia had forgotten about Ciro's. Where was Bruce? She saw him near the door and struggled, holding on to Elizabeth and the judge to reach him. She had to pass Alice Delaware to get to him. Alice regarded her with cold eyes, and Livia braced herself for the encounter.

"How did you do it?" Alice asked. "I mean, how did you give such a good performance? You were wonderful," she gushed. "I don't think I could have done it better myself." Alice was not a girl to stay outside the domain of public opinion. The picture had proved that Livia would be an important star.

Ah, there was Bruce!

He put his arm around her, and she leaned against him.

The judge grinned. "If you think you can get out of this mob, you're crazy."

"Everything is possible in Hollywood," Bruce said and called a policeman to him and whispered in his ear. A few minutes later, a lane divided the crowd.

"Mr. Bruce Nolan's car," Bruce said to the announcer. Samuels bustled up protesting.

"She'll have to go with Mr. Dunne," he said. Bruce repeated to the announcer:

"I'm sorry," said Samuels, "But she must come with us."

"Be more respectful when you talk to my wife," said Bruce and laughed in the astonished face of the publicity man.

"When?" he sputtered as Bruce helped Livia into the vehicle.

"This morning," Bruce said calmly. "My father can give you all the details. He married us—Judge Nolan—you'll find him at Ciro's—if you hurry."

They took the coast road to Northern California. And when they had left the town behind them, Livia leaned against Bruce and said: "Let's take the top down. I want the wind from the sea on my face."

After a while she asked, "You saw Charles?"

"Yes."

"How did he take it?"

"He wouldn't believe you were giving it all up to be plain Mrs. Nolan of Colorado. He said you'd come back to pictures."

They were silent. Then Livia said: "I never really liked the movie business. But I had to lick it."

"You did that tonight all right," said Bruce. "Sure you haven't changed your mind? We can turn back. All Hollywood is at Ciro's waiting for you." Livia drew her coat around her shoulders.

"If you dare turn around," she threatened, "I'll—I'll—" He stopped the car and pressed her to him.

"You'll never be sorry, Livia," he breathed into her hair. "This is reality, my darling—you and I forever."

"Forever," breathed Livia.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

This Old Treatment Often Brings Happy Relief

Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys.

The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatic pains, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes shows there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. They give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

RHEUMATISM
CONSTIPATION
WEAK KIDNEYS

For Better Health!

MEDICAL SCIENCE for many centuries has believed in the curative properties of minerals. Now, as never before, doctors are stressing the importance of Minerals. The cry is: MINERALS!! MINERALS!!

WE are told that "WE ARE WHAT WE EAT!" Foods lacking in minerals are often the cause of many ailments, such as: Decaying Teeth, Failing Eyesight, Nervous Tension, Indigestion, Kidney and Bladder Trouble, Frequent Colds, Bad Breath, General Run-Down Condition, and other disorders.

Drugless Health!

ORDINARY cathartics are habit-forming and never cure constipation. They force out the foods and digestive juices from your stomach and do not correct the cause of your trouble. BIO-MINERAL is not a physic and does not interfere with the natural foods in your stomach. It reaches down to the root—to the cause of your trouble, eliminating abnormal waste material, cleaning and purifying your intestines thoroughly in a natural, harmless and painless way.

BIO-MINERAL is a combination of vitally important Minerals, blended by Nature for those suffering the agony of Rheumatism, Arthritis, Stomach and Kidney ailments. It IS NOT a Mineral Oil, physic or harmful drug. Contains NO alcohol—NO drugs—NO opiates—NO preservatives—NO oil. NOT a SINGLE habit forming ingredient. ONLY Natural, Life-Giving Minerals—these same minerals of the world's best springs in highly concentrated liquid form.

Natural Minerals!

IF YOU SUFFER occasional constipation and other common stomach disorders, watch your elimination from your bowels after taking BIO-MINERAL. In 2 or 3 days, the waste, black as coal and hard as rock, may break from the walls of the colon, and you will see it in the stool. It is almost unbelievable that such waste could be in your intestines UNTIL YOU SEE IT!

AFTER 3 DAYS examine your urine. You may see small pieces of white stone, threads and crystal-like matter, which should not be in your system—POISONS—coming out, relieving you! These poisons, collecting there probably for years, like rust in an old iron pipe, were weakening your kidneys and ruining your digestive system.

See With Your Eyes!

WE ASK YOU to try BIO-MINERAL and SEE with your own eyes! . . . the relief you get from your ailments. You may UPROOT and drive them OUT of your system. Regardless of how long you have been suffering. It takes only 3 days to prove it. To SEE—NOT to guess the results. BIO-MINERAL is easy to take and safe for delicate organisms. Diluted in water, it is like drinking rich mineral water from a mountain spring—Life-Giving Water. Try it! It is marvelous.

Sport Podge

by REX HESS

Comes a cheering word on the war time transportation curtailment as it affects sports.

"I believe," declares Coach Lowell Ruggles of Perrysville high school, "that this gas rationing is going to be a good thing for us.

"We had one of the best crowds in our basketball history the other night when we played Butler, and gas rationing had something to do with it. The people had to take their entertainment at home. They couldn't get in their cars and drive to nearby cities to movies and other entertainment spots."

Ruggles has discovered something from actual experience which George Sisler, major domo of semi-pro baseball in these United States, has predicted for next summer.

"Small town baseball rivalries which have suffered through easy transportation to large cities, will bloom again as in days of yore, now that the fans have to stay home," opines Sisler.

Of course the smaller the towns, and the fewer the amusement possibilities, the more sports will profit.

And even in a city the size of Mansfield, the stay-at-home edict may help crowds at basketball games and other sport events.

Members of the board of the Inter-City Bowling association will meet Sunday noon at the Mansfield-Leland hotel to decide the fate of this year's tournament, scheduled at Colony alleys, and overnight the prospects for going through with the tourney have brightened considerably.

In sending out notices of the meeting, Secretary W. H. Thompson of Delaware informed the board members: "This meeting is very important. We'll decide whether to bowl or not to bowl."

The fact that eight of the 11 board members have notified him they will be present, indicates interest in carrying on the tournament, Thompson believes.

I have just been invited to attend the Co-operative club dinner next Tuesday night at 6:30 at the Leland when Ohio State Freshman Coach Ernie Godfrey will show movies of several Buckeye games of the past gridiron season.

The Co-op club doesn't know yet what movies Ernie (who used to be called THE KING at Wittenberg) will show, but it has been suggested he bring pictures of games played on bright sunshiny days.

And he may bring Mansfield's two Ohio State freshmen quarterbacks, Dave Templeton and Bill Doolittle, along with him.

Why, of course I'll go. This is what I've been wanting all fall—a nice, warm, comfortable place to see a football game.

Smith Rolls High In Tappan Loop

Smith's 539 was high total for the Tappan Stove bowling league at Colony alleys last night, while P. Wolf had high game of 227 followed by 129.

F. Sshaus led Tappan women with a 474 total and high game of 175.

Phillies Still Look For Help

Situation Put Right Back In League Lap.

CHICAGO—(INS)—Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis called the joint session of the National and American leagues to meet today at his own hotel, two miles north of the Chicago loop.

The 76-year-old baseball czar recently underwent a minor operation and his physician forbade him to leave his hotel to preside at the meeting of the two leagues.

An early item of business scheduled was on a proposal made by the St. Louis Cardinals, already approved by both leagues separately

The proposal suggests that all players on the national defense service list, the voluntarily retired list, and the suspended list must be paid for by the selecting club at the time of selection. Heretofore payment was not required until the player had been reinstated.

Other points up for discussion in the joint session included the freezing of players' salaries, freezing of players and territorial rights, clarification of spring training and regular schedules, night games, and the composition of the baseball itself.

Ford Frick, president of the National league, and Gerry Nugent, president of the Philadelphia Phils, wrote an unhappy ending to baseball's version of the Philadelphia story. Frick, in substance, said that no name outside the present Phil family had been linked with a possible reorganization.

Nugent declared the Phil situation is the same as it was before the baseball meeting opened Tuesday—right in the lap of the National league. Denying that the league had ordered him to reorganize or sell the club, Nugent said these moves actually were proposed by him. He said no purchaser had been found and no one had offered aid in the way of new working capital.

The Phil's president said he would return home and put the matter of the club's financial status up to the stockholders and then attempt to find a solution.

Bill Terry, who resigned as farm manager for the New York Giants, expressed his willingness to join the Phils in an executive capacity, but was said to have refused to put his own money in the deal.

Both leagues voiced their willingness to cooperate with defense transportation Director Joseph B. Eastman in curtailing the use of railroads during spring training and the regular season. It even was suggested that the season may be shortened by the elimination of one of the two-game home and home series and use the synthetic doubleheader system.

With one or two possible exceptions, there was expected to be no trading of players in the final day of the major league sessions, but some deals are expected when the minor leagues meet tomorrow.

ONTARIO CAGERS LIFT LID TOMORROW NIGHT

ONTARIO Coach Orville Kibler today picked a first squad of ten players for the opening game of the Ontario high school basketball season with Lucas here.

Selected on the first squad, which includes seven lettermen, are Jack Elliott Junior Boleratz, Lee Paramore Jim Griffith Junior Gage, Charles Hellinger, Robert Henry Jim Hunt, Robert Daugherty and Chester Hellinger.

Lucas recently defeated Butler by one point. A preliminary game will be played between two Ontario teams.

ARMSTRONG BOOKED TO MEET ROBINSON

PORTLAND, Ore. (INS) Henry Armstrong, the negro fighter who once held three world titles, will meet Ray "Sugar" Robinson, Harlem welterweight, in Madison Square Garden, Jan. 20, it was disclosed in Portland today.

George Moore, Armstrong's manager, agreed to the bout following a long distance telephone conference with Mike Jacobs.

Ten Tygers to Make Up Squad

Open Cage Season at Columbus Tomorrow.

Preparing to take a squad of ten players to Columbus tomorrow night for the Mansfield high school Tygers' opening game of the 1942-43 basketball season, Coach Vern Hoffman was not certain today as to the complete makeup of the squad.

Nine players have just about definitely earned trips to Columbus. They are Dean Hahn, Jim Robertson, Andy Lameraux, Jim Burrage, Russ McBride, Douglas Myers, Ned Brunk, Bob Baker and Gene Foster.

Tenth player will be picked from Bill Snowden, Joe Radio, Lee Crownover and Joe Nixon, Coach Hoffman said today.

However, Hoffman indicated that if room can be found, he may take a squad of 12. The team will travel in private cars for the first game.

First squad players left at home will scrimmage Coach Paul Snyder's sophomores at 3:30 tomorrow afternoon in a regulation game.

Hoffman discovered yesterday that Findlay expected to play here Saturday night, after playing at Elyria tomorrow night. A letter from Findlay announced that the Oilers would be here, but although coaches of the two teams had made a verbal agreement on the game, no contract had been signed. So there will be no game.

The Tyger tutor is still looking for preliminary games for his sophomores with organized church teams or county school first teams on the following dates: Dec. 11 and 18, Jan. 9—12-19, and Feb. 26. Teams interested should call Hoffman.

Little is known this early in the season as to the strength of the Columbus South team which now holds a 2-1 edge over the Tygers in their present series. Last year South defeated a good Mansfield team in the opener 34 to 29, and went on to have an undefeated season in the regular schedule.

Sandusky high school, scheduled to meet Mansfield's basketball Tygers here Tuesday night, Jan. 19, today announced cancellation of its basketball and swimming schedule for 1942-43.

Inability to provide transportation for teams was given as the reason for cancellation of the schedule.

D. Dancer Leads Victory Keglers

D. Dancer led the Victory bowling league at Colony alleys last night with a 538, edging B. Lace who had 533.

Dancer also had high game of 210, while Gass and Pfizenmayer tied for second at 207.

BURRAGE HONORED

Weds Bob Feller This Month

The world's premier baseball pitcher, Robert Feller, has become engaged to Virginia Winther, 21 (above), of Waukegan, Ill., and announces that the marriage will take place "probably sometime in December." Rapid Robert is now stationed at the Navy Pre-Flight school at Iowa City.

Burrage Gets Honorable Mention on All-Ohio Squad

By WILLIAM STRINGER

COLUMBUS—(AP)—A galaxy of brilliant ball handlers and blockers from Ohio's steel-making country, which produces gridders as tough as its steel, dominates the United Press 22-man all-Ohio high school football squad of 1942.

Steubenville, Massillon and Canton McKinley—schools which have become synonymous with top-flight teams and sparkling gridiron play in the toughest scholastic circuit in the land—contributed the largest number of players to the team.

Chosen for the United Press by coaches and sports writers from more than 8,000 scholastic gridders, the team is sparked by a stellar backfield which can do everything around a stadium but sell programs.

In the lineup are some of the names you have heard all fall—Dominick, Jenkins, Lucas, Holt, Cardinal, Sauer, Becca and Stojack. All are durable, top-ranking backfield men and they proved their worth by successful weathering the crazy 1942 season.

Outside of a uniformly good crop of ends, the voting pointed out at least a half dozen other outstanding linemen. Howard Duncan, 195-pound Lakewood center, received more votes than any other lineman.

Here's the 1942 all-Ohio squad:

Ends: Jack Shaw, Cleveland East; Dave Marshall, Dover; Bill Snyder, Steubenville; Ernie Parks, Canton McKinley.

Tackles: Oick Lashley, Steubenville; Don Kay, Marion Harding; Charley Meyer, Toledo Libbey; Jack Wilson, Xenia Central.

Center: Howard Duncan, Lakewood; Alfonse Andreani, Alliance.

Backs: Johnny Stojack, Steubenville; Nob Lucas, Paulding; Tony Dominick, Canton McKinley; Fred Cardinal, Massillon, Harold Jenkins, Marion Harding; Charles Becca, Martins Ferry; Johnny Sauer, Dayton; Oakwood: Chuck Holt Massillon.

Stojack is a 171-pound triple-threater who heaved passes for 15 touchdowns in eight games, his touchdown passes averaging 45 yards. Termed by Ohio valley newspaper men "perhaps one of the greatest high school passers in the nation," he can toss a ball 50 or 60 yards with ease. He's a tricky runner and a defensive bulwark.

Lucas, the Negro junior at Paulding, led the state's scorers for the season with a total of 278 points, bringing his three-year total to 475 points which ties the national record set by Billy Hillenbrand for Indiana and equaled by Tommy Harmon for Michigan. His coach characterizes him as "a master mind at diagnosing plays" and believes Lucas made 90 per cent of the Paulding's tackles this year.

Dominick is a great plunger who also can kick and pass. He was McKinley's most consistent ground gainer and it was Dominick who sparked the Bulldogs to their victory over unbeaten Massillon.

Cardinal is a speedy blocking back and a fine place-kicker. He was outstanding against McKinley and played all season with shoulder braces whiche prevented him from raising his arms.

Becca, tow-headed fullback for Martins Ferry, was an all-around player despite his 155 pounds. He did the passing, the punting, most of the running, the signal calling, the kicking-off, the extra point bootings and played safety on the defense.

Sauer, a speed merchant and a high scorer, is, in Coach E. T. Cook's opinion, "the best all-around football player among the high schools of the country." He's a triple threater on the offense, an excellent back on the defense.

Holt, in leading Massillon, tallied 10 touchdowns and 15 extra points. He's fast, a fine spinner, a hard blocker, an average place-kicker and an excellent defender against passes.

Lucas led the field in the balloting, receiving more votes than any other single player. Duncan was runner up in the number of ballots received. Alfonse Andreani, Alliance's senior center, was a strong choice in the Ohio valley.

Shaw, six-foot two-inch Cleveland East end, followed close behind Duncan in popularity. Marshall, Snyder and Parks took the other end spots without much difficulty.

The squad idea, including all of the players who stood apart from the rest of the field in the statewide poll, is used by the United Press for the fourth consecutive year to prevent injustices which often result to deserving players when only a "first" eleven is chosen

LEADS BSHOPS

RETURNS TO BASEBALL

CHICAGO—(AP)—George Trautman of Columbus, president of the American Baseball Association, has resigned as a colonel in the army specialist corps, recently disbanded. He had been on leave of absence from his baseball duties.

Leahy Denies Dirty Play

Declares Movies Show No Evidence of Charge.

SOUTH BEND, Ind.—(INS)—Frank Leahy, head coach of the Notre Dame football team, denied today a charge that his team had played "dirty football" against Stanford university.

The accusation was made by Ed Stamm, Stanford tackle and president of the student body, who added that, "according to reports," the Irish also played dirty football against the University of Southern California.

"We were surprised to hear Ed Stamm's charge that Notre Dame played dirty football against Stanford," Leahy said. "We have just gone over the Stanford game movie and could find no evidence of dirty play on either side, which leads me to wonder if Stamm has been quoted correctly.

"It is strange that Stamm waited as long as he did to make this statement if he did make it, and strange that there has been no mention of such tactics from any Stanford official.

"We wish that the general public, or any group of officials, coaches, and newspaper men on the coast could scrutinize these pictures of the Stanford and Southern California games to determine whether any of the three teams involved played dirty football.

"Undoubtedly a difference in rules interpretation between the coast and other sections has had much to do with newspaper charges that we played dirty football against Southern California and Stanford.

THEATERS

New Leading Man.

Paul Henreid, the Viennese actor appearing opposite Bette Davis in the Ohio attraction, "Now, Voyager," was playing on the London stage in "Victoria Regina," when the Nazi bombings started. Since reaching Hollywood he has scored several successes, one of them in "Joan of Paris," with Michele Morgan as leading woman. In the current feature he plays a friendly but lonely young man who becomes acquainted aboard ship with a frustrated New England girl bound for Rio. Claude Rains, Gladys Cooper and Ilka Chase are in the cast.

Spy Drama.

The Lone Wolf is up to a new bag of tricks in "Counter-Espionage," the Madison attraction starring Warren William in the role of the popular film sleuth. He leads the London police to think he is on their side while convincing the Nazis he is also in accordance with their machinations. An air raid sequence filmed in cooperation with the British government highlights the picture that casts Eric Blore and Hillary Brooke. "Wings and the Woman," the life story of the "Flying Mollisons," with Anna Neagle is the co-feature.

Burma Locale.

Tribute to the men who bagged Jap planes along the Burma road is paid in "Flying Tigers," the Park attraction featuring John Wayne. Anna Lee, John Carroll and John Loder. Organized by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek this group of intrepid airmen known as the American Volunteer corps figured in many thrilling incidents. Wayne plays the role of a squadron leader and Loder the part of a cocky flyer who has his ego deflated before the story is finished. 'Hi Neighbor," the co-feature, has Lulubelle and Scotty and an array of other entertainers.

Domestic Comedy.

A housemaid who un-nerves an exclusive residential community by writing a book about the goings-on in her employer's household furnishes fun in "The Affairs of Martha," the Ritz attraction. Marsha Hunt plays the maid in the swank Long Island home presided over by Melville Cooper and Spring Byington. Richard Carlson, Marjorie Main, Virginia Weidler and Allyn Joslyn are others in the cast. "Law of the Timber," a James Oliver Curwood story, is the second attraction. Marjorie Reynolds and Monte Blue are among the players.

Shade and Mader Take Westie Honors

Shade led the Westinghouse "C" league at Colony alleys last night with a 520 total, and J. Mader had high game of 202.

FINDLAY WINS

FINDLAY—(AP)—Findlay college defeated the Toledo Naval training station, 59 to 29, in opening the basketball season. Forward Gene Wurm scored 19 points for the Oilers.

Sinkwich Has Yardage Lead

Accounts For 2,187 In Compiling New Record.

By ARNOLD DERLITZKI

CHICAGO—(AP)—The 1942 collegiate football season's most proficient individuals when it came to making a football produce yardage were Frankie Sinkwich of Georgia, Rudolph (Little Doc) Mobley of Hardin-Simmons and Ray Evans of Kansas.

Sinkwich, in accounting for 2,187 yards, became the first player in modern history to pass the 2,000 mark in total offense (passing and rushing).

Mobley's 1,281 yards by rushing a lone was another modern record, while Evans became the second man ever to complete more than 100 forward passes. Evans finished with 101, which is 13 short of the record established last year by Bud Schwenk of Washington university, St. Louis.

The nation's No. 1 punter among those kicking 30 or more times was Bobby Cifers of Tennessee with a 42.89 yard average. Closely behind came North Carolina State's Art Faircloth with 42.2.

A pass receiving champion remained to be settled when Cullen Rogers of Texas A. and M. and Fred Salem of Texas Mines. Each had caught 36. Rogers gaining 417 yards and Salem 401. However, each has a game yet to be studied by the American Football statistical bureau.

In addition to the new marks by Sinkwich (who bettered the 1,928 total by Schwenk in 1941) and Mobley (who topped Colorado Whizzer White's 1,121 total in 1937), two other records were tied.

Bill Dutton of Pittsburgh equalled the 209 ball carrying attempts Sinkwich set last year in winning rushing honors. However, Bob Kennedy of Washington State needs to carry the ball only seven times against the Texas Aggies this week to boost his total to 210 and a new record.

Columbia's Paul Governali tied Davey O'Brien of Texas Christian who completed 19 touchdown passes in 1937.

JOCKEY SUSPENDED

BAY MEADOWS, Cal.—(INS)—Jockey Fred "Fritz" Becker of Norfolk, Neb., was under suspension today, after race track officials at Bay Meadows found him with a "buzzer" concealed in his blouse.

Barons Beaten by Pittsburgh Club

HERSHEY, Pa. —(U.P.)— The Hershey Bears increased their eastern division lead in the American Hockey league Wednesday night when they held off a late Providence rally to defeat the Reds, 5-4.

Pittsburgh's Hornets, in second place in the western division, picked up a game on the leading Buffalo team by coming from behind to stop the Cleveland Barons, 4-1.

Sullivan and Fitzgerald scored for Hershey and Toupin and Forsey tallied for Providence to make it two-all in the first period. Dailey and Hergert scored for Hershey in the second and Kilrea tallied in the third as Aubuchon and Demarco netted Providence's final two goals in the last period.

Giroux's goal put Cleveland out in front of Pittsburgh in the first period, Himmerling scoring for the Hornets in the second to make it even. Corrigan, Roubell and Schultz hit the net for Pittsburgh in the last period to make it a rout for the Hornets.

Ohio Valley Loop Being Organized

HUNTINGTON, W. Va. —(AP)— Officials from Ohio, Kentucky and West Virginia meet here Sunday to consider formation of an Ohio Valley high school athletic conference which would include Portsmouth and Ironton, O., in its membership.

Coach John Brickels of Huntington Central said schools in the proposed league would compete in football, basketball and track.

Other schools to be represented at the meeting:

Charleston, Stonewall Jackson, Parkersburg and Huntington East of West Virginia and Ashland, Ky.

COACH PROMOTED

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. —(U.P.)— Backfield Coach Tom Young today became acting head football coach at the University of North Carolina to succeed Jim Tatum, who resigned Monday to become a junior grade lieutenant in the navy. Young's appointment was announced last night by the athletic council.

ACCEPTS BID

CINCINNATI — (U.P.) — Chet Mutryn, star halfback on the Xavier university football team for three years, said today he would accept an invitation to play in the annual blue-gray intersectional football game at Montgomery, Ala., Dec. 26.

Sport Podge

by REX HESS

Comes a cheering word on the war time transportation curtailment as it affects sports.

"I believe," declares Coach Lowell Ruggles of Perrysville high school, "that this gas rationing is going to be a good thing for us.

"We had one of the best crowds in our basketball history the other night when we played Butler, and gas rationing had something to do with it. The people had to take their entertainment at home. They couldn't get in their cars and drive to nearby cities to movies and other entertainment spots."

Ruggles has discovered something from actual experience which George Sisler, major domo of semi-pro baseball in these United States, has predicted for next summer.

"Small town baseball rivalries which have suffered through easy transportation to large cities, will bloom again as in days of yore, now that the fans have to stay home," opines Sisler.

Of course the smaller the towns, and the fewer the amusement possibilities, the more sports will profit.

And even in a city the size of Mansfield, the stay-at-home edict may help crowds at basketball games and other sport events.

Members of the board of the Inter-City Bowling association will meet Sunday noon at the Mansfield-Leland hotel to decide the fate of this year's tournament, scheduled at Colony alleys, and overnight the prospects for going through with the tourney have brightened considerably.

In sending out notices of the meeting, Secretary W. H. Thompson of Delaware informed the board members: "This meeting is very important. We'll decide whether to bowl or not to bowl."

The fact that eight of the 11 board members have notified him they will be present, indicates interest in carrying on the tournament, Thompson believes.

I have just been invited to attend the Co-operative club dinner next Tuesday night at 6:30 at the Leland when Ohio State Freshman Coach Ernie Godfrey will show movies of several Buckeye games of the past gridiron season.

The Co-op club doesn't know yet what movies Ernie (who used to be called THE KING at Wittenberg) will show, but it has been suggested he bring pictures of games played on bright sunshiny days.

And he may bring Mansfield's two Ohio State freshmen quarterbacks, Dave Templeton and Bill Doolittle, along with him.

Phillies Still Look For Help

Situation Put Right Back In League Lap.

CHICAGO—(NNS)—Baseball Commissioner Kenesaw M. Landis called the joint session of the National and American leagues to meet today at his own hotel, two miles north of the Chicago loop.

The 76-year-old baseball czar recently underwent a minor operation and his physician forbade him to leave his hotel to preside at the meeting of the two leagues.

An early item of business scheduled was on a proposal made by the St. Louis Cardinals, already approved by both leagues separately.

The proposal suggests that all players on the national defense service list, the voluntarily retired list, and the suspended list must be paid for by the selecting club at the time of selection. Heretofore payment was not required until the player had been reinstated.

Other points up for discussion in the joint session included the freezing of players' salaries, freezing of players and territorial rights, clarification of spring training and regular schedules, night games, and the composition of the baseball itself.

Ford Frick, president of the National league, and Gerry Nugent, president of the Philadelphia Phils, wrote an unhappy ending to baseball's version of the Philadelphia story. Frick, in substance, said that no name outside the present Phil family had been linked with a possible reorganization.

Nugent declared the Phil situation is the same as it was before the baseball meeting opened Tuesday—right in the lap of the National league. Denying that the league had ordered him to reorganize or sell the club, Nugent said these moves actually were proposed by him. He said no purchaser had been found and no one had offered aid in the way of new working capital.

The Phil's president said he would return home and put the matter of the club's financial status up to the stockholders and then attempt to find a solution.

Bill Terry, who resigned as farm manager for the New York Giants, expressed his willingness to join the Phils in an executive capacity, but was said to have refused to put his own money in the deal.

Both leagues voiced their willingness to cooperate with defense transportation Director Joseph B. Eastman in curtailing the use of railroads during spring training and the regular season. It even was suggested that the season may be shortened by the elimination of one of the two-game home and home series and use the synthetic doubleheader system.

With one or two possible exceptions there was expected to be no trading of players in the final day of the major league sessions, but some deals are expected when the minor leagues meet tomorrow.

Hits Perfect Game In Duckpin League

ONTARIO CAGERS LIFT LID TOMORROW NIGHT

ONTARIO—Coach Orville Kibler today picked a first squad of ten players for the opening game of the Ontario high school basketball season with Lucas here.

Selected on the first squad which includes seven lettermen, are Jack Elliott, Junior Boleratz Lee Patamore, Jim Griffith Junior Gage, Charles Hellinger Robert Hemy, Jim Hunt, Robert Daugherty and Chester Hellinger.

Lucas recently defeated Butler by one point. A preliminary game will be played between two Ontario teams.

Smith Rolls High In Tappan Loop

Smith's 539 was high total for the Tappan Stove bowling league at Colony alleys last night, while P. Wolf had high game of 227, followed by 129.

F. Sshaus led Tappan women with a 474 total and high game of 175.

ARMSTRONG BOOKED TO MEET ROBINSON

PORTLAND, Ore. (NNS)—Henry Armstrong, the negro fighter who once held three world titles, will meet Ray "Sugar" Robinson, Harlem welterweight, in Madison Square Garden, Jan. 20, it was disclosed in Portland today.

George Moore, Armstrong's manager, agreed to the bout following a long distance telephone conference with Mike Jacobs.

Open Cage Season at Columbus Tomorrow.

Preparing to take a squad of ten players to Columbus tomorrow night for the Mansfield high school Tygers' opening game of the 1942-43 basketball season, Coach Vern Hoffman was not certain today as to the complete makeup of the squad.

Nine players have just about definitely earned trips to Columbus. They are Dean Hahn, Jim Robertson, Andy Lameraux, Jim Burrage, Russ McBride, Douglas Myers, Ned Brunk, Bob Baker and Gene Foster.

Tenth player will be picked from Bill Snowden, Joe Radio, Lee Crownover and Joe Nixon, Coach Hoffman said today.

However, Hoffman indicated that if room can be found, he may take a squad of 12. The team will travel in private cars for the first game.

First squad players left at home will scrimmage Coach Paul Snyder's sophomores at 3:30 tomorrow afternoon in a regulation game.

Hoffman discovered yesterday that Findlay expected to play here Saturday night, after playing at Elyria tomorrow night. A letter from Findlay announced that the Oilers would be here, but although coaches of the two teams had made a verbal agreement on the game, no contract had been signed. So there will be no game.

The Tyger tutor is still looking for preliminary games for his sophomores with organized church teams or county school first teams on the following dates: Dec. 11 and 18, Jan. 9—12-19, and Feb. 26. Teams interested should call Hoffman.

Little is known this early in the season as to the strength of the Columbus South team which now holds a 2-1 edge over the Tygers in their present series. Last year South defeated a good Mansfield team in the opener 31 to 29, and went on to have an undefeated season in the regular schedule.

Sandusky high school, scheduled to meet Mansfield's basketball Tygers here Tuesday night, Jan. 19, today announced cancellation of its basketball and swimming schedule for 1942-43.

Inability to provide transportation for teams was given as the reason for cancellation of the schedule.

D. Dancer Leads Victory Keglers

D. Dancer led the Victory bowling league at Colony alleys last night with a 538, edging B. Lace who had 533.

Dancer also had high game of 210, while Gass and Pfizenmayer tied for second at 207.

Burrage Gets Honorable Mention on All-Ohio Squad

By WILLIAM STRINGER

COLUMBUS—(AP)—A galaxy of brilliant ball handlers and blockers from Ohio's steel-making country, which produces gridders as tough as its steel, dominates the United Press 22-man all-Ohio high school football squad of 1942.

Steubenville, Massillon and Canton McKinley—schools which have become synonymous with top-flight teams and sparkling gridiron play in the toughest scholastic circuit in the land—contributed the largest number of players to the team.

Chosen for the United Press by coaches and sports writers from more than 8,000 scholastic gridders, the team is sparked by a stellar backfield which can do everything around a stadium but sell programs.

In the lineup are some of the names you have heard all fall—Dominick, Jenkins, Lucas, Holt, Cardinal, Sauer, Becca and Stojack. All are durable, top-ranking backfield men and they proved their worth by successfull weathering the crazy 1942 season.

Outside of a uniformly good crop of ends, the voting pointed out at least a half dozen other outstanding linemen. Howard Duncan, 195-pound Lakewood center, received more votes than any other lineman.

Here's the 1942 all-Ohio squad:

Ends: Jack Shaw, Cleveland East; Dave Marshall, Dover; Bill Snyder, Steubenville; Ernie Parks, Canton McKinley.

Tackles: Dick Lashley, Steubenville, Don Kay, Marion Harding; Charley Meyer, Toledo Libbey; Jack Wilson, Xenia Central.

Center: Howard Duncan, Lakewood; Alfonse Andreani, Alliance.

Backs: Johnny Stojack, Steubenville; Nob Lucas, Paulding, Tony Dominick, Canton McKinley; Fred Cardinal, Massillon; Harold Jenkins, Marion Harding; Charles Becca, Martins Ferry, Johnny Sauer, Dayton; Oakwood, Chuck Holt, Massillon.

Stojack is a 171-pound triple-threater who heaved passes for 15 touchdowns in eight games, his touchdown passes averaging 45 yards. Termed by Ohio valley newspaper men "perhaps one of the greatest high school passers in the nation," he can toss a ball 50 or 60 yards with ease. He's a tricky runner and a defensive bulwark.

Lucas, the Negro junior at Paulding, led the state's scorers for the season with a total of 278 points, bringing his three-year total to 475 points which ties the national record set by Billy Hillenbrand for Indiana and equaled by Tommy Harmon for Michigan. His coach characterizes him as "a master mind at diagnosing plays" and believes Lucas made 90 per cent of the Paulding's tackles this year.

Dominick is a great plunger who also can kick and pass. He was McKinley's most consistent ground gainer and it was Dominick who sparked the Bulldogs to their victory over unbeaten Massillon.

Cardinal is a speedy blocking back and a fine place-kicker. He was outstanding against McKinley and played all season with shoulder braces which prevented him from raising his arms.

Becca, tow-headed fullback for Martins Ferry, was an all-around player despite his 155 pounds. He did the passing, the punting, most of the running, the signal calling, the kicking-off, the extra point bootings and played safety on the defense.

Sauer, a speed merchant and a high scorer, is, in Coach E. T. Cook's opinion, "the best all-around football player among the high schools of the country." He's a triple threater on the offense, an excellent back on the defense.

Holt, in leading Massillon, tallied 10 touchdowns and 15 extra points. He's fast, a fine spinner, a hard blocker, an average place-kicker and an excellent defender against passes.

Lucas led the field in the balloting, receiving more votes than any other single player. Duncan was runner up in the number of ballots received. Alfonse Andreani, Alliance's senior center, was a strong choice in the Ohio valley.

Shaw, six-foot two-inch Cleveland East end, followed close behind Duncan in popularity. Marshall, Snyder and Parks took the other end spots without much difficulty.

The squad idea, including all of the players who stood apart from the rest of the field in the statewide poll, is used by the United Press for the fourth consecutive year to prevent injustices which often result to deserving players when only a "first" eleven is chosen.

BURRAGE HONORED

Jim Burrage, star Mansfield end, was the only Tyger considered in the All-Ohio selections. He received honorable mention.

LEADS BSHIOPS

RETURNS TO BASEBALL

CHICAGO—(AP)—George Trautman of Columbus, president of the American Baseball Association, has resigned as a colonel in the army specialist corps, recently disbanded. He had been on leave of absence from his baseball duties.

Leahy Denies Dirty Play

Declares Movies Show No Evidence of Charge.

SOUTH BEND, Ind. (NNS)—Frank Leahy, head coach of the Notre Dame football team, denied today a charge that his team had played "dirty football" against Stanford university.

The accusation was made by Ed Stamm, Stanford tackle and president of the student body, who added that, "according to reports," the Irish also played dirty football against the University of Southern California.

"We were surprised to hear Ed Stamm's charge that Notre Dame played dirty football against Stanford," Leahy said. "We have just gone over the Stanford game movie and could find no evidence of dirty play on either side, which leads me to wonder if Stamm has been quoted correctly.

"It is strange that Stamm waited as long as he did to make this statement if he did make it, and strange that there has been no mention of such tactics from any Stanford official.

"We wish that the general public, or any group of officials, coaches, and newspaper men on the coast could scrutinize these pictures of the Stanford and Southern California games to determine whether any of the three teams involved played dirty football.

"Undoubtedly a difference in rules interpretation between the coast and other sections has had much to do with newspaper charges that we played dirty football against Southern California and Stanford.

THEATERS

New Leading Man.

Paul Henreid, the Viennese actor appearing opposite Bette Davis in the Ohio attraction, "Now, Voyager," was playing on the London stage in "Victoria Regina," when the Nazi bombings started. Since reaching Hollywood he has scored several successes, one of them in "Joan of Paris," with Michele Morgan as leading woman. In the current feature he plays a friendly but lonely young man who becomes acquainted aboard ship with a frustrated New England girl bound for Rio. Claude Rains, Gladys Cooper and Ilka Chase are in the cast.

Spy Drama.

The Lone Wolf is up to a new bag of tricks in "Counter-Espionage," the Madison attraction starring Warren William in the role of the popular film sleuth. He leads the London police to think he is on their side while convincing the Nazis he is also in accordance with their machinations. An air raid sequence filmed in cooperation with the British government highlights the picture that casts Eric Blore and Hillary Brooke. "Wings and the Woman," the life story of the "Flying Mollisons," with Anna Neagle is the co-feature.

Burma Locale.

Tribute to the men who bagged Jap planes along the Burma road is paid in "Flying Tigers," the Park attraction featuring John Wayne, Anna Lee, John Carroll and John Loder. Organized by Generalissimo Chiang Kai-Shek this group of intrepid airmen known as the American Volunteer corps figured in many thrilling incidents. Wayne plays the role of a squadron leader and Loder the part of a cocky flyer who has his ego deflated before the story is finished. "Hi Neighbor," the co-feature, has Lulubelle and Scotty and an array of other entertainers.

Domestic Comedy.

A housemaid who un-nerves an exclusive residential community by writing a book about the goings-on in her employer's household furnishes fun in "The Affairs of Martha," the Ritz attraction. Marsha Hunt plays the maid in the swank Long Island home presided over by Melville Cooper and Spring Byington. Richard Carlson, Marjorie Main, Virginia Weidler and Allyn Joslyn are others in the cast. "Law of the Timber," a James Oliver Curwood story, is the second attraction. Marjorie Reynolds and Monte Blue are among the players.

Sinkwich Has Yardage Lead

Accounts For 2,187 In Compiling New Record.

By ARNOLD DERLITZKI

CHICAGO—(AP)—The 1942 collegiate football season's most proficient individuals when it came to making a football produce yardage were Frankie Sinkwich of Georgia, Rudolph (Little Doc) Mobley of Hardin-Simmons and Ray Evans of Kansas.

Sinkwich, in accounting for 2,187 yards, became the first player in modern history to pass the 2,000 mark in total offense (passing and rushing).

Mobley's 1,281 yards by rushing alone was another modern record, while Evans became the second man ever to complete more than 100 forward passes. Evans finished with 101, which is 13 short of the record established last year by Bud Schwenk of Washington university, St. Louis.

The nation's No. 1 punter among those kicking 30 or more times was Bobby Cifers of Tennessee with a 42.89 yard average. Closely behind came North Carolina State's Art Faircloth with 42.2.

A pass receiving champion remained to be settled when Cullen Rogers of Texas A. and M. and Fred Salem of Texas Mines. Each had caught 36. Rogers gaining 417 yards and Salem 401. However, each has a game yet to be studied by the American Football statistical bureau.

In addition to the new marks by Sinkwich (who bettered the 1,928 total by Schwenk in 1941) and Mobley (who topped Colorado Whizzer White's 1,121 total in 1937), two other records were tied.

Bill Dutton of Pittsburgh equalled the 209 ball carrying attempts Sinkwich set last year in winning rushing honors. However, Bob Kennedy of Washington State needs to carry the ball only seven times against the Texas Aggies this week to boost his total to 210 and a new record.

Columbia's Paul Governali tied Davey O'Brien of Texas Christian who completed 19 touchdown passes in 1937.

Barons Beaten by Pittsburgh Club

HERSHEY, Pa. —(U.P.)— The Hershey Bears increased their eastern division lead in the American Hockey league Wednesday night when they held off a late Providence rally to defeat the Reds, 5-4.

Pittsburgh's Hornets, in second place in the western division, picked up a game on the leading Buffalo team by coming from behind to stop the Cleveland Barons, 4-1.

Sullivan and Fitzgerald scored for Hershey and Toupin and Forsey tallied for Providence to make it two-all in the first period. Dailey and Hergert scored for Hershey in the second and Kilrea tallied in the third as Aubuchon and Demarco netted Providence's final two goals in the last period.

Giroux's goal put Cleveland out in front of Pittsburgh in the first period. Himmerling scoring for the Hornets in the second to make it even. Corrigan, Roubelt and Schultz hit the net for Pittsburgh in the last period to make it a rout for the Hornets.

POPEYE— After Dinner Speech.

I'M AWFULLY SORRY, BUT ALL WE'VE GOT IS SPINACH— WE DON'T DINE SO WELL DOWN HERE
JUS' SPINACH, EH? YA ORTA BE ASHAMED O' YERSELF
OKAY, I WILL TAKE THE SPINACH
SPINACH IS ALL, EH?
ARF! ARF!
HE DIDN' KNOW SPINACH WAS ALL I WANTED

PAM— In the Still of the Night! By A. W. Brewerton

WONDER IF THIS ISN'T A SILLY STUNT I'M PULLING?
EVERY-THING'S SO STILL, IT—IT'S ALMOST SCARY!
12-3
GUESS EVERYONE'S SOUND ASLEEP NOW...UH-HH ...I...I'M GET-TING AWFULLY SLEEPY, TOO!
FINE DETECTIVE I AM!
BUT, STRUGGLE THOUGH SHE DID, AT LAST NATURE WOULD NOT BE DENIED —AND PAM FELL FAST ASLEEP!
QUITE SOME TIME LATER SHE WAS STARTLINGLY AWAKENED BY A PIERCING SHRIEK!
OH—OH, DEAR! WHAT'S THAT?

GIRL DRIVES FARM TRACTOR

FORT FAIRFIELD, Me.—(U.P.)—Typical of hundreds of other New England high school graduates is 17-year-old Shirley Haines. She intended to attend the University of Maine, but volunteered to help her father as tractor driver on their 225-acre farm.

Shirley admits she hated to forego her college education, but a bumper crop, lack of help, and the enlistment of her brother necessitated the sacrifice.

HIGHER TRENDS MARK TRADING IN STOCK LIST

Bank Clearings Show Increase In Large Cities Over Last Year's Figures.

(By Associated Press)

NEW YORK—Irregularly higher trends ruled early dealings in today's stock market

Up fractionally at a quiet opening were General Electric, Southern Railway, Pennsylvania, General Motors, U. S. Steel, N. Y. Central, International Harvester and United Aircraft. Moderate declines were registered for American Telephone, Bethlehem and Standard Oil (N.J.)

A little market encouragement was derived from the Dun & Bradstreet compilation estimating bank clearings in 23 cities for the week ended Wednesday, which included the Thanksgiving holiday, topped the 6-day period last year by 6.7 per cent

The survey of the Engineering News-Record placed the latest week's heavy construction awards at 10 per cent above the corresponding 1941 week

Replace Censor Who Eliminated American Slang

SOMEWHERE IN AUSTRALIA—(INS)—Stories of the inability of Americans to understand Australian slang have been numerous, but here's one about an Australian who didn't understand American slang—and has a new job today because he didn't.

The censor, who was in the overseas mail section, wielded a heavy hand on oft-found expressions such as "in the groove" "hep cat" "pitching woo," and "strictly out of this world."

When his liberal censorship program was discovered he was hastily replaced by an American officer—someone more tolerant of the Yanks' twentieth century grammer

Doughboys quipping on the removal of the Australian, claimed it was "fair dinkum"

How Yanks Secure North African Beachheads

The pilot of a U S Navy plane covering the assault against Casablanca in French Morocco made this striking photo showing actual landing operations of U S Army troops at an isolated section of beach where they prepared the way for a mass landing of troops and equipment.

Set Speed Mark

Army Lieutenants Harold Comstock, 22 (top) of Fresno, Cal., and Roger Dyar, 22 (bottom) of Lowell, O were revealed to have dived the new Republic P-47 Thunderbolt pursuit planes at the incredible speed of 725 miles per hour, which is faster than the speed of sound in rarefied air and surpasses the velocity of a bullet fired from a .45 caliber revolver Neither pilot reported any "blackout" of vision but admitted that pulling out of the 12 mile per minute speed does "curl your stomach."

Hits Plan Paying Some, Not Others In Ration Set-Up

While other OPA groups are able to pay at least fair salaries?"

His reference was interpreted to to be to the rent control office where salaries for the Richland, Ashland, Crawford and Knox county areas will total more than $10 000 annually

Weller cited an instance of a call he received to recommend some of those who were employed gratis during the gasoline rationing at John Simpson high school to work for $3 50 a day at 'another OPA' office 'That explains why it is difficult for us to find help, although we have been able so far to keep an efficient group working at this more or less thankless business'

"No one objects to doing everything he can to help in the war effort," Weller continued "but most of us do object to the difference of treatment among the various departments."

Cargo Planes May Soon Haul Fruit, Other Perishables

LAKELAND Fla —(INS)— Fast and high-flying cargo planes will some day haul perishable Florida fruits and vegetables to the metropolitan markets of the nation.

That is the prediction of Albert T Lodwick, pioneer U S aviation leader, who is now operating two primary flight training schools in Florida for the United States army air forces

Lodwick who handled all details of Howard Hughes' record-breaking 'round-the-world flight, envisions pay loads both ways for cargo planes specializing in hauling perishables on regular schedules

He declares that planes could fly to New York with Florida's finest citrus fruits and vegetables and return with fresh fish from Boston and Cape Cod oysters and clams from Maryland and fresh shrimp from Louisiana and Alabama

NUMBER GAMES QUIT, REPORT

Operators Said To Have Shut Down After Police Chief's Gambling Edict.

would arise in commission affairs at this time.

Chief Bell this morning explained that he had issued no specific orders to suppress numbers salesmen and that no reports had been made by Captains Jesse Schwab or Paul Whipp of the second and third police working shifts that their patrolmen had warned operators to quit business

Bell's anti-gambling program was announced early this week. "I'm tired of hearing about phoney clubs and other arrangements under which commercial bingo has been operated," Bell declared "I will instruct members of the department to arrest operators and confiscate equipment, leaving it to the courts to decide whether or not the play was by a regularly chartered club"

City Solicitor Leslie K. Wagner said today he had been asked for opinions on "what constitutes a club" but that his only reply has been that "the police and courts would have to determine that."

Wagner yesterday differed with the Civil Service commission in the Bates case holding that the leave granted by council for the duration of the emergency obviated any limitation ruling by the commission

Chief Bell today reiterated that he is definitely done with condoning jealousies of gambling operators and outside interference which hinders proper operation of the police department ary rations, in cases where certificates of necessity had not been received. Dealers also must file their reports with the panel this week.

"All gasoline rationing will be handled in this office hereafter," W. J. Spreng, chairman of the panel pointed out, "including those who for some reason or other have not registered for gasoline for passenger cars, dealers licenses, trucks and non-highway use, motorcycles or any other purpose." Spreng said some persons were still confused as to where they should go for such registrations.

Application for certificates of necessity for truck gasoline must be mailed to ODT Headquarters, Canton, Ohio, Attention: Mr. Jones, Spreng said. Temporary rations for December may be issued by the panel.

Complaints and adjustments will not be made this week, Spreng warned, but said that beginning next Monday the panel will sit each morning except Saturday, for the purpose of reviewing applications and adjusting complaints.

U. S. BLACKLISTS 2 SHIPS OWNED BY ARGENTINA

They're Going to Stay There Until Washington Learns Where Money Went.

(By United Press)

BUENOS AIRES — Two merchant ships owned by the Argentine government are on the United States blacklist, "and they are going to remain there," according to U. S. diplomatic sources.

The ships will stay on the list, it was explained, until the United States government is satisfied that the funds for their purchase have not found their way into German hands.

The situation arose from the government's purchase of the two vessels from A. M. Delfino & company, a shipping firm that had been on the blacklist for many months because of its alleged German financial control. It was the Delfino company that supplied the barges which removed more than 1,000 officers and men from the scuttled German pocket battleship Graf Spee off Montevideo in December, 1939.

Early this year the Delfino firm sold to the state merchant marine the 21-year-old, 1,827-ton passenger and cargo vessel "Madryn," and the 37-year-old, 4,482-ton freight and passenger ship "Commodor Rivadavia." Provisions of the executive decree authorizing their purchase allocated free funds in contract with the policy followed by Argentina in 1941 when funds paid to the Italian government for 16 freighters were frozen for the duration of the war.

It was believed that the cash paid to Delfino might be used to finance Nazi propaganda and fifth column activities here, and the ships were specifically blacklisted. Eight Delfino company tugs, weighing 1,600 tons, purchased by the government for use of the navy and the merchant marine, also were named on the United States and British blacklists.

Principal effect of the blacklisting is to restrict use of the ships to certain routes—such as down the Atlantic coast of Patagonia and through the Straits of Magellan to neutral Chile. But the sort of cargo they carry also is limited, as firms shipping in blacklisted vessels also are liable to be blacklisted.

Farmers Observe War Time, But It's Not Very Popular

DES MOINES, Ia.—(INS)—Iowa farmers are observing "daylight saving" time as a war measure, but they don't like it, according to Charles D. Reed, meteorologist for the United States weather bureau in Des Moines.

To them it's "daylight wasting" Reed asserted.

There are two reasons why Iowa farmers feel that "war time" is wasteful, Reed explained.

One is that dew and rain don't co-operate with the clock, and consequently farmers get a later start at their work in the fields than they do under normal time.

The other is that farm laborers have in recent years come to think of 6 p. m. as quitting time, regardless of what time they start to work in the morning.

If the clocks had been set an hour the other way, Reed said, farmers would be getting two hours more work each day out of their help.

Columbus Woman Works to Get Convicts Into Army.

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Mrs. John D. Heller of Columbus, has opened a one-woman campaign to give eligible convicts an opportunity to enter the nation's armed forces.

She has sent messages to state and national officials urging that "able-bodied and willing convicts be permitted to enter the armed forces." Their release to the army, she maintains, would postpone drafting of married men with families.

Mrs. Heller has an 18-year-old son in the Marine corps.

Splendid Cough Syrup Easily Mixed at Home

It's So Easy! Makes a Big Saving. No Cooking.

To get quick and satisfying relief from coughs due to colds, mix this recipe in your own kitchen. Once tried you'll never be without it, and it's so simple and easy.

First, make a syrup by stirring 2 cups granulated sugar and one cup of water a few moments, until dissolved. A child could do it. No cooking needed. Or you can use corn syrup or liquid honey, instead of sugar syrup.

Then get 2½ ounces of Pinex from any druggist. This is a special compound of proven ingredients, in concentrated form, known for its effect on throat and bronchial membranes.

Put the Pinex into a pint bottle, and add your syrup. Thus you make a full pint of really splendid medicine and you get about four times as much for your money. It never spoils, and children love its pleasant taste.

And for quick, blessed relief, it is amazing. You can feel it take hold in a way that means business. It loosens phlegm, soothes the irritated membranes, and eases the soreness. Thus it makes breathing easy, and lets you get restful sleep. Just try it, and if not pleased, your money will be refunded.

BRITISH SINK SIX SHIPS IN ENEMY CONVOY

Prevent Reinforcements From Arriving at Axis Posts in North Africa.

of ships which would have blocked the channel. He said they reached the inner harbor and landed troops before going down.

Other Allied losses included three destroyers, one of which was Dutch; a sloop, a minesweeper, an anti-aircraft ship, a corvette and a depot ship.

While the Allied westward drive from Libya still paused near El Agheila, with only patrol activity aground and slightly increased air activity, fierce struggles apparently were being waged along the narrowing arc of defenses which the Axis has flung out on all landward sides of Bizerte and Tunis.

A Berlin broadcast, attributed to authoritative Nazi sources, said German troops had recaptured the key communications point of Tebourba from American forces. This was the first enemy acknowledgment even that the Axis had lost Tebourba, which is 20 miles west of Tunis and 35 miles south of Bizerte, and there was no confirmation from Allied reports of the recapture claim.

The German broadcast said the Americans lost 22 tanks in the encounter.

Conversely, Allied dispatches from the front said that the German counter-attack had been smashed and that the Americans had played a major role in repelling it.

The Italian communique, also reporting relative quiet on the Libyan front, said 200 British prisoners had been taken, including an entire parachute detachment, in Tunisia.

Allied headquarters declared the Nazis had lost heavily in their unsuccessful counterblow, launched with the apparent hope of cutting off the wedge which the Allies have driven between the two ports.

Another German counter-attack, said a communique broadcast by the Morocco radio, was repulsed at Pont De Fahs, 30 miles south of Tunis, by French forces which captured that place several days ago.

Heavy fighting also was reported around Mateur, 12 miles south of Bizerte, where an Allied column is driving toward the coast.

British and American planes hammered the enemy from the air with mounting fury, concentrating especially on Axis airfields.

American medium bombers, escorted by P-38 fighters, raided the Tunis airdrome for the fifth time in 44 hours, destroying at least 12 grounded planes.

Reports from the front indicated that the twin-engined P-38's were playing an important part in the battle for control of the skies over Tunisia and were proving more than a match for the best German planes.

The P-38's also were credited with knocking out a number of German tanks in the Djedeida sector near Tunis.

Adding the pressure being exerted on the Axis garrisons on the ground and in the air, the British navy swung into action with its big guns to harass the enemy from the sea.

The news that the fleet had gone into action, disclosed in an Allied communique yesterday afternoon, was viewed here as an indication that the Allied offensive is swiftly approaching a climax.

While the battle for Tunisia thus appeared to be nearing a showdown there were hints that the Allies were on the verge of acquiring the French West African base of Dakar without bloodshed—and with it a valuable part of the French fleet stationed there.

Informed sources here said they were certain that a decision to open Dakar to Allied use would result soon from conferences now under way in Algiers among Pierre Boisson, governor-general of French West Africa, Admiral Jean Darlan and Allied military officials.

Complicating the situation, however, was the hostile attitude which the Fighting French continued to take toward Darlan.

Though the situation obviously was delicate, London observers expressed belief there was no danger of the differences between the opposing French factions breaking out into open conflict.

Report Arrests In French Underground

LONDON —(INS)— A semi-military Fighting French organization has been uncovered near Lyon, France, and many arrests have been made, the Nazi-operated Paris radio asserted today.

It was reported that in addition to the discovery of the organization operating in support of Gen. Charles De Gaulle, police raids in the neighborhood of Lyon and Toulouse had resulted in the seizure of secret radio transmitters.

"Thousands of anti-national pamphlets have been seized at Lyon," the Paris station said.

Nazis In Africa Get Large Reinforcements

LONDON —(U.P.)— Radio Morocco reported today that German forces in Africa have been heavily reinforced and front reports disclosed that Allied columns driving on Tunis and Bizerte had encountered stiff opposition from Nazi tanks, heavy artillery and strong air force elements.

The German radio claimed that a Nazi column, advancing from Djedeida had captured Tabourda, rail communications center 18 miles west of Tunis.

There was no confirmation of this assertion from Allied quarters and the latest dispatches from the field in Africa reported that Allied troops at Tabourda were beating off a strong German counter-attack.

The Germans said that they were sending a steady stream of modern war equipment and fresh troops into Tunisia, utilizing the east coast ports of Sfax and Gabes for the most part.

Report Duce's Speech Brings Panic

LONDON —(INS)— Premier Benito Mussolini's call to the Italian people to evacuate women and children from the nation's cities threw the Italians into panic and led to an uncontrollable exodus last night, the Daily Express said today.

Italians fled not only from the northern industrial centers which have been the principal target to date of Royal Air Force bombers but also from Florence, Rome and Naples.

By car, train and afoot, thousands upon thousands poured out of the cities to seek safe haven in the countryside. A Berlin radio announcement said that residents of Rome, fearing an imminent air attack, will be evacuated as soon as possible.

Before leaving the cities, the Daily Express dispitch said, many persons besieged local banks to withdraw funds. Several of the banking institutions were able to save themselves only by closing down or invoking emergency currency regulations.

RAF Renews Attacks On German Cities

LONDON —(U.P.)— The RAF, renewing its night assaults on the Reich after a lapse of 10 days, struck last night at Frankfurt and several other objectives in western Germany, the air ministry announced today.

Six aircraft were lost in the assault, said the announcement, which gave no indication of the size of the raiding force.

(Estimating that the losses were six per cent, however—a figure frequently used as an index in the past — this would mean that a force of about 120 bombers was employed.)

The Berlin radio referred to the raids—the first on Germany by night since the attack on Stuttgart Nov. 22 - as "nuisance raids."

AFL Units Object To Hiring of Conscientious Objectors.

COLUMBUS —(U.P.)— Ohio locals of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employes (AFL) plan a formal protest against employment of conscientious objectors in five state mental institutions, President Richard Spencer of the Columbus local, declared today.

The union is scheduled to draft a protest resolution addressed to Gov. John W. Bricker and Welfare Director Charles L. Sherwood at a state-wide delegate assembly here Dec. 13, Spencer said.

14 Axis Ships Sunk Since Occupation

LONDON —(U.P.)— British naval forces in the Mediterranean have destroyed 14 Axis supply ships and four protecting destroyers and damaged another seven, including a cruiser since the Allied landings in North Africa, it was disclosed today.

A. V. Alexander, first lord of the admiralty, told the house of commons that British naval losses in the African landing operations were 10 ships.

These included the small aircraft carrier Avenger, an anti-aircraft escort ship, two destroyers, a corvette, two cutters, a sloop, a depot ship and a minesweeper, he said. In addition the Dutch navy lost one destroyer.

Alexander said British submarines had destroyed three tankers, seven supply ships and two destroyers. In addition, he said, they inflicted heavy damage on a six-inch gun cruiser, two destroyers and four supply ships.

BEAT OFF JAP BUNA CONVOY

Allied Fliers Force Ships To Retreat as Americans Enter Village.

It was the sixth attempt made by the Japs to reinforce their hard-pressed Buna garrison. The battle lasted 18 hours.

In the ground fighting Gen. Douglas MacArthur's forces have whipped through Jap defense positions to gain control of a beach area parallel to Buna while at Buna proper scattered Allied units have infiltrated into the outskirts of the village.

Headquarters announced that the desperate and determined enemy defenders are putting up the fiercest kind of resistance.

A major portion of Lieut. Gen. George C. Kennedy's bombardment command was thrown into the air battle to smash back the troop-laden Jap destroyers and shoot down the 23 enemy planes. The battle began sometime Tuesday afternoon when the flotilla was sighted off the New Britain island coast near Gasmata. From then until yesterday morning Allied heavy and medium bombers pounded constantly at the foe, dropping ton after ton of high explosives against the warships and strafing them mercilessly.

Admit Resistance In Philippines

(By United Press)

Strong, completely organized and well-equipped United States and Philippines army forces are still holding out in the Central Philippines, eight months after the fall of Bataan and seven months after the surrender of the historic garrison at Corregidor, Japan disclosed today in radio broadcasts.

It had been known that guerrilla fighting had been kept up in some Philippine areas. But the Japanese now revealed that the resistance was organized and that the United States and Philippines forces were even able to patrol the coasts of the islands to watch for Japanese landing parties.

There was every indication that the defense must be under the command of high officers because of its evidently splendid organization.

Furthermore, Japan admitted, the defenders were still getting recruits from the Philippines population.

The Domei correspondent disclosed that the United States and Philippines forces were resisting in the islands of Panay, Cebu and Leyti. Among others, in addition to the smaller visayans, "taking advantage of the steep mountains."

Further, as relations between the Japanese army and navy never have been good, the Tokyo broadcasts seemed to indicate that the navy was taking pains to reveal that the army had been unable to complete the conquest of the Philippines and had been forced to call in the navy.

come to a momentary halt a few miles from Kotelnikovski, nearly 100 miles from the Volga stronghold.

The radio also said that the Red army had smashed "an important enemy center" southwest of Rzhev but did not further identify it.

Russia's armies thus moved into the third week of the winter offensive, slower in pace but still claimed by Soviet authorities to be deadly effective in destruction of enemy personnel and equipment.

The Soviet midnight communique had listed more than 3,800 Axis troops killed in noting "stubborn resistance" to new advances claimed by the Red army.

Izvestia, government newspaper, reported from the front that Germans were abandoning some of their mechanized equipment in the snowdrifts as they retreated.

Pravda, Communist party organ, described captives taken in the Rzhev sector as being still clad in their summer uniforms with only earmuffs to protect them from the cold.

Red Star reported that white-robed Russian ski troopers, armed with tommy guns and riding atop tanks from village to village, met an enemy company and "awful destruction followed with the whole German company being ground in the snow beneath the tanks while the ski troops raged the rest of its ranks with tommy gunfire."

19 Men on Barge Still Adrift on Lake Erie Today

CLEVELAND — (AP) — Buffeted by 18-foot waves, the ice-sheeted barge Cleveco and her 19-man crew still were adrift on Lake Erie today - more than 24 hours after cutting loose from the tug Admiral which sank with a loss of 14 lives.

Her communication and heating systems out of commission after water flooded the boilers and generators, the 250-foot barge rode out a night-long storm in sub-freezing temperatures while the coast guard cutter Ossipee stood by.

District coast guard headquarters said the cutter's commanding officer would determine whether an attempt would be made to transfer the crew members or tow the barge into Cleveland with the men aboard.

The Cleveco, loaded with 21,000 barrels of oil and en route from Toledo to Cleveland, was in the Admiral's tow when the tug and her entire crew went down in the icy waters yesterday about 12 miles northwest of here.

Circumstances of the tug's sinking were not reported by the Cleveco, under Capt. William H. Smith of Cleveland.

guns and all kinds of equipment for American armed forces.

Favorable public reaction to the "Remember Pearl Harbor — Buy Bonds" plan today spurred committee hopes that the $100,000 goal, through outright bond purchases and payroll deduction pledges, would easily be reached.

Pledges to be signed by all persons buying bonds either way—outright or through payroll deduction—will be distributed to every home in the city during Mansfield's first civilian defense test mobilization Sunday at 7 p. m. The pledges will be turned over to The News-Journal and published in a special edition Dec. 13, which will be mailed to every Mansfielder now in the armed services.

The pledge card is reproduced on Page 7 of today's paper and may be used by a bond buyer if he does not receive one of the regular forms.

FIRE RAGES IN GLASS FACTORY

Water Main Bursts at Newark Prior to Blaze.

NEWARK —(AP)— Molten glass cascaded from a cooling tank and spread fire through the plant of the Owens-Corning Fibre Glass company today.

Fire Chief Stanley Shaw said at 10 a. m., that the flames still were out of control and looked "very bad."

Shortly before the fire started at 8:25 a. m., a 16-inch water main broke in the north end of Newark and the water level in Horns Hill reservoir, from which the city obtains mush of its supply, dwindled to within four feet of the reservoir's bottom.

Gaymes Slater, general manager of the plant, said bursting of the main was the indirect cause of the fire.

when he slipped and fell on the ice while watching the fire.

The flames demolished buildings housing the New London Fair Print Shop, Sue's Beauty Shop, the upstairs apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Charles McCray, the Leasure apartments, Norton Shoe store and the Graves studio.

Badly damaged by water and smoke were the W. R. C. hall, Harvey's Drug store and Sylvia's grocery, offices of the C. E. Ward company, nationally known regalia manufacturing firm, in the fire area, escaped damage.

The flames were confined to the west side of South Main street, although the high wind threatened to carry the blaze to other sections of the Huron county village. Fire destroyed business buildings on the same site 26 years ago.

The volunteer New London fire department with 12 members tried vainly to bring the fire under control until equipment arrived from Norwalk and Ashland.

Mussolini Breaks Long Silence

EVEN the illusion of greatness seems to have departed from the petulant and ailing Mussolini who spoke yesterday to the Italian people, after eighteen months of silence.

Seeming to sense that he was nearing the end of his rope, and attempting to defend his betrayal of Italy in an effort at self-aggrandizement, the duce spoke in a way that was interpeted by some as resembling "a death-bed confession" rather than a characteristic boast of assured Axis victory.

It was particularly noted that Mussolini frankly admitted that Italy had "stabbed France in the back," in June, 1940, and accused, in extenuation, that at some time in the distant past France had been guilty of similar stabbings.

Overrun by the armed forces of Hitler, under Allied threat of greater destruction from the air, with possibility of actual invasion, Italy is now seething with internal discontent—verging on revolution which may soon overthrow the Mussolini regime.

The Italian nation has been traditionally a friend and associate of Britain, and in recent times had been rather closely linked with America—until the advent of Mussolini. The fiery upstart, who at first seemed to be a savior for Italy in a period of distress, has proved to be her worst handicap.

It was Mussolini who created modern Fascism, and Hitler merely copied his system, with weird variations. For a time Italy seemed to thrive under it. Industry recovered and the helpless nation gained power. But the pupil surpassed the teacher in the art of government by personal force. Hitler gradually elbowed the duce aside, took over Italy and made it virtually an accessory to his criminal war against civilization. Now Mussolini, broken in health and spirit, is merely a "yes man" for the Teutonic intruder. The Italian people are in great distress and poverty, unwilling tools of Hitler.

The United States government, by its proved friendship to the Italian people, has opened the way for an Italian revolt against slavery. Britain, through Churchill's recent speech, has given the Italians a more direct invitation to swing over to the Allied nations. They will yet break their chains and join the free powers.

Don't Forget Those Christmas Seals

AS MUCH emphasis as is possible, in the midst of war, is being placed on the importance of maintaining national health gains, and, specifically, to continue the fight against tuberculosis.

The final decade of peace years witnessed gratifying progress in the battle against this insidious disease, but records reveal that war always produces conditions which increase the number of victims.

December is the month for purchase and use of the Christmas seals, proceeds from which are used to combat the white plague, locally and throughout the nation.

Each of these seals, as it is affixed to a letter or package during this holiday season, serves to express the interest of the sender in this fine humanitarian activity, to which many persons contribute time and effort in carrying through the annual campaign.

Sheets of Christmas seals have been mailed to many Mansfielders who have been accustomed to get their supply in this way, and all citizens are urged to buy and use as many as possible, so that funds may not be lacking to carry on this vital health work.

Civil Service Rules or War Needs?

THE COINCIDENCE involved in mention of imminent expiration of the year's limit on leaves of absence for public employes, prescribed by civil service rules, in association with intimations of intended effort to remove Thomas M. Bell from his temporary post of chief of police, because of announced law enforcement policies against commercialized gambling, is interesting but not impressive.

It was the intent of city council, when leave of absence was granted to Police Chief Meade K. Bates last January, when he was called into service by the Federal Bureau of Investigation for wartime duties, that he continue in that service "for the duration," or as long as needed by the government.

Any idea that he should now be recalled from important wartime work with the FBI, or that he should forfeit any seniority or pension rights because of required absence for more than a year, is ridiculous on the face of it.

When Meade Bates has completed the work in which he is serving his country in the FBI, he will be welcomed back to his job as Mansfield's chief of police. Meanwhile it will be necessary to get along without him—even if civil service rules must be adjusted to meet war conditions.

Quart-a-Day Whisky Limit Imposed

PATRIOTIC co-operation of whisky drinkers is asked by the state liquor department in connection with its effort to assure equitable distribution of the available supply of liquor.

In order to discourage any inclination toward hoarding, the state liquor board has limited purchases of whisky to a quart a day per customer.

Jacob B. Taylor, state liquor director, explained that liquor for public consumption must come from reserves existing October 8, since which date distilleries have produced alcohol exclusively for war purposes.

According to Joseph Clery, chief of the department's enforcement division, state liquor stores have been given strict instructions not to sell more than one quart bottle per day "to an adult person," but he recognizes that customers "could visit more than one of the state's stores, or make repeat visits to the same outlet."

The department therefore "appeals to the sense of fair play of the public to co-operate . . . in this semi-voluntary rationing program."

By thus limiting purchases of whisky to a quart a day per customer, it is hoped to keep 1942 liquor sales in Ohio down to little more than $90,000,000, as compared to $70,000,000 in 1941 and $58,000,000 in 1940.

WAITING AT THE DOOR

FDR Friendships Block Efficiency

—By CARTER FIELD

WASHINGTON — One of the most appealing and lovable traits of Franklin D. Roosevelt stands in the way of vitally necessary reforms, affecting taxes, the national debt and manpower, not to mention governmental efficiency. This is his insistance on standing by old friends, admitting few new ones even to the vestibule of the council chamber, and keeping them always at arm's length.

Never has this cleaving of the president to his old friends been better illustrated than in the much discussed executive shakeup involving Harold L. Ickes, Madame Perkins and Paul McNutt. Of the three, of course, only two are old friends. McNutt is still in the ante-chamber, and doomed to stay there no matter what title he may be awarded temporarily.

To divert for a moment, McNutt has been given two jobs which everyone thought would kill him off politically. Neither has accomplished the trick, so a sharper ax must be found.

THERE is scarcely a person in the country, outside the White House inner circle, admiring social workers and some personal friends, who do not think that a happier choice for the cabinet could be found than Madame Perkins without too great a strain on the person doing the choosing.

This is not because of any views the lady holds. Certainly not because she is pro-labor, for both the major labor organizations would like to see her retired to private life, and this despite her championship of the sitdown strikes when these were infuriating the country.

But, she is in the inner sanctum, and FDR does not expel many old members.

But this cabinet shakeup situation is far less important than the thing it illustrates. Why has the administration been so loath to profit by the research of the committee headed by Senator Harry Flood Byrd, of Virginia? To have followed the recommendations of that committee would have accomplished the following:

1. Enormously reduced the federal payroll.

2. Released scores of thousands of workers vitally needed for the war effort, not to mention the draft.

3. Relieved the transportation problem in Washington and vicinity, strained to the breaking point.

4. Accomplished a solution of the housing problem, also acute in Washington, and in nearby Baltimore, which has become a vital war production centre.

WHY, despite these obvious advantages, and despite the critical nature of the war situation, have not the committee's suggestions been followed?

The answer is simple. To comply with these recommendations would rub the president the wrong way in two different spots. It would be accepting "direction" from a source he does not like, and, much more important, it would be treading on the toes of a lot of old friends.

These old friends are in charge of the bureaus which would be cut down in importance, if not abolished for the duration, by the Byrd recommendations. They would all lose face, and some of them would find no further excuse for clinging to the payroll. FDR simply could not bring himself to witness such suffering on the part of time-tried and proven lieutenants.

So waste of public money, the housing and transportation shortage will probably continue to the end of the chapter.

Listen World!

Post-War Peace

—By ELSIE ROBINSON

I GRIN to myself when I hear people talking about the "post-war peace." Discussing what it will be like. Making solemn plans and blue prints. Yes, I grin. But there isn't much humor in that grin. When, I wonder, will we humans stop kidding ourselves?

That post-war peace: what will it be?

It will be what peace has always been. It will be what each of us, individually, makes it. It will be as high and as wide and as beautiful a we can make it.

Peace isn't a chemical formula. Nor a fruit cake recipe. Nor something you can enforce by laws and committees.

Peace is a state of mind. A purely personal state of mind.

No man's peace can ever be like any other man's peace. For each man's peace depends on his own tenderness and tolerance, his own balance and intelligence and common sense.

Nothing could be more ludicrous than to think that we can enforce peace after this war. For "enforced peace" isn't peace. It's tyranny. It's slavery. It's the makings of a bigger and better hell.

People can't be made peaceful. They must choose peace, which is the last thing most of them want to do. For it takes a highly civilized person to prefer peace. There are so many things more exciting than peace, so many things which, in a way, are more profitable.

Head hunting, to certain savages, is infinitely more thrilling and profitable than Psalm singing. They cannot comprehend why anyone should like to sit by a fire and read a good book, any more than the book reader can understand the delight of taking a nice, gory scalp. And if you think the war's going to change that fundamental fact, you're crazy.

Then why fight? And what will the world be like after this war is over? That's easy. It will be like what it was before the war began. There will be revised treaties, different boundaries, various new laws and taxations for us all. But human nature will go on being human nature.

Chances are, we'll get snooty at the English and the English will get snooty at us and the French will hate us both. The Italians will continue to be Italians. Germans being Germans, will become Holy Rollers or something else that seems highly convenient. And the Russians and Chinese, being very wise and realistic people, will probably wash their hands of all of us. And that will be the end of this fantastic dream of "world peace."

But it won't be the end of Peace. Peace will go on, germinating in one soul after another, growing with each man's growth, as it was meant to do. For there can never be "world peace" until there is individual peace. And there can be no individual peace until each one of us realize that hate and greed and revenge never pay. Either for a person or a nation.

And in that statement lies the reason for this war. It's not a reasonable reason. It's a cruel and heartbreaking way of learning a lesson. And we'll have to pay a terrible price for it. Yet, costly as it is, we're learning—and teaching—that hate doesn't pay. And we're finding that peace cannot be won with tanks or guns, battleships, airplanes or submarines.

YOU, ALONE, IN YOUR HEART, CAN ACHIEVE PEACE IT MUST BE BORN, AS THE "PRINCE OF PEACE" WAS BORN, IN THE LOWLY MANGER OF EACH HUMAN SOUL.

When you, in your heart, are willing to eliminate hate and spite and greed, the world will be on its way to peace. But not until then.

Looking Back

TWENTY YEARS AGO TODAY

Sunday, Dec. 3, 1922.

Fortieth wedding anniversary was observed by Mr. and Mrs. David Goldsmith with open house at their home, 103 Dickson avenue.

Bryant Washburn in "Hungry Hearts" was screen attraction at the Majestic.

Announcement was made that a Chinese restaurant, the Pagoda, would be opened at 95½ North Main street.

Annual memorial day services were conducted by Mansfield lodge of Elks, with eulogies to E. M. Wolfe, Lee Downend and Chauncey Hale.

Frederick Jesson was placed on honor roll as freshman at Washington and Lee university.

Rufus H. King reported to police that officers in King building had been burglarized.

Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Baxter and daughter Dorothy left for California to spend the winter.

TODAY IN HISTORY

George Brinton McClellan, American general, was born at Philadelphia on Dec. 3, 1826. McClellan was a West Point graduate in 1846 with exceptionally high rank. He served gallantly in the Mexican struggle under General Scott and was decorated for bravery. His Civil war strategy, however, was somewhat less outstanding and ended in his loss of command. McClellan ran for president in 1864, but was overwhelmingly defeated by Lincoln.

Interpreting the War News

Nazi U-Boat Activities Continue, African Coast Chief Danger Spot

—By LOUIS F. KEEMLE

ALLIED "expediency" in accepting the services of Admiral Jean Francois Darlan in Africa appears more than justified in the light of a dispatch from John A. Parris, United Press correspondent just returned to London by air from Africa.

Darlan, it appears, is in accord with Marshal Henri Philippe Petain and between them they hold the confidence of the French people. Their leadership on behalf of the United Nations would destroy the influence of such treacherous Nazi tools at Laval, Deat and Doriot and would mean the end of "collaboration."

Darlan already has made a valuable contribution to the Allied cause by bringing French West Africa into the camp of freedom. The latest news from London leaves no doubt that he has done so. Foreign Secretary Anthony Eden told commons that discussions are under way with the French for the use of West African facilities and ports, including Dakar.

Dakar is an acquisition of great importance. Not only is it the nearest point to the South American continent, but it is invaluable as a base from which to combat the Nazi submarine menace.

This menace is very real. Prime Minister Winston Churchill pointed out on Sunday that it is growing instead of diminishing and is likely to become worse before it is overcome.

Allied leaders have not forgotten that Germany almost won the last war with submarines. The fact now is that the submarine is Germany's chief remaining weapon. The reich has been outstripped in air strength and is due to fall farther behind.

Without superiority in the air, Germany cannot invade England. Her land forces are immobilized in Russia and in various parts of the European continent. The remaining hope is the submarine, with which to choke the Allied supply line.

The big British-American expeditionary force in North Africa is dependent on the Atlantic route for supplies. The British are not announcing shipping losses and the extent of enemy submarine activity is not known.

THERE is reason to believe, however, that the Germans have concentrated their underseas activity off Africa, and have virtually abandoned their campaign off the North American coast.

With a heavy concentration of submarines, of which Germany has several hundred—perhaps three times as many as in the last war—the Nazis are capable of working havoc on two main Allied supply lines.

One is the line from the United States to West and North Africa. It is essential to the Mediterranean campaign, which is designed as a prelude to the invasion of Europe from the south.

The other is the "life line" around the Cape of Good Hope which supplies the Middle East, India, and Russia.

Possession of Dakar would help the Allies greatly in combatting this menace.

Watching Trends

—By JACK STINNETT

(First of two articles on U. S. feeding of foreign nations.)

WASHINGTON — Gov. Herbert H. Lehman has been handed one of the war's toughest jobs.

As director of foreign relief and rehabilitation, he will be the Herbert Hoover of World war II, but without depreciating the splendid job done by Mr. Hoover 25 years ago, the task facing Governor Lehman is ten times that.

Hoover had to deal principally with Belgium, parts of France, Russia and Italy and a few scattered small nations. Governor Lehman will have to consider a big chunk of the whole world.

There already have been stories that when our supply lines in the Solomons forced our troops to cut to two meager meals a day, consisting principally of canned meat, we still were distributing food to hungry natives half starved during Japanese occupation.

When the full story of North Africa is told, it's likely that the prospect of more and better food will have had more to do with capitulation of the French colonials and natives than all the Darlans and Girauds in the book. It is considered here that Spain and Portugal are staying neutral strictly from hunger. And it's a common saying that Italy will trade unconditional surrender for a ham sandwich.

FROM Greece to Norway, from Brittany to Finland, the occupied and Nazi-allied countries already are starving.

Food, medicine, clothing and even small arms have to be gotten to our allies inside the lines, as well as to those now neutral who might be brought into the ranks of United Nations.

That sets up Governor Lehman in his new post as a sort of superszar of economic warfare.

It means also that he will have to fight one of the battles of the century with the agencies and men in charge of production and distribution of food, clothing, etc., in this country.

THINK of it in the single terms of one single commodity: meat. If our armed forces, civilians, and the few allies already being taken care of have already forced the nation to meat rationing, whom is the new director of FRR going to "rob" to get the supplies he must have, to do any kind of job at all? How is he going to do it without upsetting price control? Where is he going to get the transportation to get these supplies to the starving nations?

These are a few of the primary problems that will beset the good governor of New York.

The slugging matches he will have to indulge in with the Board of Economic Warfare, Agriculture, Price Control, the WPB, the maritime commission, the armed forces, and half a dozen other agencies, before he can even call his task well begun are ones that will call for greater courage than any toiler in the Washington vineyard has yet had to display.

(Tomorrow: Why Governor Lehman?)

3. What, given in their order, are the most valuable of all metals today?

Hints on Etiquette.

A good host or hostess does not explain in whispers to his guest that so-and-so, one of the company, is very rich or influential. Although the one to whom he whispers may be glad of the information, he will feel placed in an inferior position, which is not one a thoughtful host or hostess would care to place friends.

One-Minute Test Answers.

1. Fifty-one thousand cars.

2. G-2, Army Intelligence Department; GHQ is general headquarters.

3. Iron, copper, gold.

Women Favor Selective Service And Approve Military Training

AFTER a year of war American women believe that there should be a selective service law for women to place them where needed in the nation's service. They also favor compulsory military training in high schools and believe that management and labor in war industries should be subject to military control and regulation for the duration.

These views are revealed in the continuing poll of women's opinion conducted by the Woman's Home Companion and based on a national panel of women chosen to give an accurate cross-section of the magazine's millions of readers.

Opinion of the women in the nation-wide panel, representing all age-groups and conditions of life, was approximately two to one in favor of selective service for women and compulsory training for children, (65 to 70 per cent respectively) and better than four to one (83 per cent) in favor of military control of war industry and labor.

On the question of selective service for women, many of those in favor offered qualifications, the most common being "only for the duration of the war" and exempting those with small children." Those most strongly supporting selective service were women from small towns. The highest votes geographically came from the south and Pacific coast.

On the subject of compulsory military training in high schools (7 to 3 in favor) most of the women felt it would improve the health of the nation's youth and supply needed discipline, in addition to offering preparation for the armed forces. Breakdown of replies showed little difference in opinion among women in large cities (71 per cent in favor), those in smaller cities (70 per cent), and those in communities of less than 10,000 (68 per cent).

Nearest approach to unanimity was shown in replies to the question, "Should or should not management and labor in war industries be subject to military control and regulation for the duration of the war?" The women of the south led those in favor of such control with 92 per cent, followed by those of the northwest with 88 per cent, the Pacific states with 81 per cent and the northeast with 80 per cent.

Comments of the women voting indicated that their chief reason for wishing military control of war industry and labor was due to their concern over strikes and labor disputes. Typical comments: "Strikes are criminally unfair to our boys in the service." "If we don't have military control of war industries strikes may mean losing the war."

The small group opposing military control do so chiefly because they think it smacks of dictatorship.

Timely Editorial

Make It Perfect.

It's encouraging news, from the war labor board, that fewer man days were lost to war production because of strikes in October than in any previous month this year. The figures: Strikes in progress, 115; workers involved in strikes, 42,320; man days lost, 167,865.

But with all the machinery provided by government for prompt and peaceable settlement of controversies, usually on terms most favorable to labor, there is no justification for strikes in war industries. Government officials say so. The national leaders of organized labor say so. There's still room for improvement. The figures for December, Pearl Harbor anniversary month, ought to be: Strikes in progress, none; workers involved in strikes, none; man days lost, none. — Akron Beacon Journal.

A Farmer's Diary

'Felt Dawn'

—By CALVIN A. BYERS

JUST before daylight, the large morning stars shine bright above our valley. There is a peculiarly delightful promise in the very atmosphere—an imminence of dawn that seems the very "substance of things hoped for, the evidence of things not seen."

I stood on our cottage doorstep, and noticed that a black cloud was hiding the moon, in the west, so that the rays of even the lesser stars seemed to twinkle in the crisp air. The valley was so quiet that the faint tinkling of a sheep bell on a distant slope came clearly to me. The neighbors were milking—lights in the barn showed that.

The hills to the south, and our own near slope were white with hoar frost. The maples, stark and bare, made black etched tracery against the sky. Withered goldenrod, asters and beggar weed bent, whitened with icy jewels.

I stood and watched the sky lighten along the dusky eastern hills. Quietly and steadily the new day rode — greatest of changes, from darkness to light, in such a short time, and with no pause, no hesitancy—as though a great gray curtain had shifted westward, leaving scarlet streamers rising from a burning depths beyond the hills.

"Felt dawn," the poet wrote, of "Flanders Fields." I have felt it, in my own valley. There is a lift that makes the day uncommon, for the one who watches and thinks about even such a routine natural phenomenon as "break of day." There is a tranquil hush that brings strength and poise and reverent thankfulness.

I have read that now the "lights have gone out on Broadway." The war has blacked out many familiar things. But on any farm, on any clear morning before dawn—stop and see the stars grow dim and watch the light of a new day break over the fields and hills and streams. It will do you good. It will make you glad! It will give you strength!

JUDGE REFUSES TO LET DANCER DO STRIP-TEASE

Margie Hart Wants To Show Jurors How It's Done But Judge Says No.

(By United Press)

NEW YORK—A jury of seven dead-panned men and five blushing women yesterday was denied a chance to see Margie Hart, strip tease performer, "take it off" in the interest of justice.

Judge Owen T. Bohan, despite the testimony of Miss Hart that she was willing to duplicate her performance denied a defense motion for such a private showing, before the jury, which is trying the producers of the revue, "Wine, Women and Song" on charges of presenting an indecent show.

Miss Hart was the last of a succession of witnesses including Noel Toy, Chinese fan dancer, and other performers, called by the defense to testify that they could and would, if asked, present the show for the jury exactly as it was performed on the night of Oct. 31, when a delegation of detectives and reformers sat in orchestra seats and saw all.

For her court appearance the red-hired Miss Hart appeared in a striking but for the most part modest purple frock. She preceded her appearance on the witness stand by a whispered blast at newspaper men who reported that she performed "bumps" on the stage.

"I never did a bump in my life," she said indignantly.

She testified, as did Jimmy Savo, comedian, and Miss Toy, who appeared in court wearing pig-tails and a Chinese mandarin costume with a slit skirt, that she could go through the whole performance again for the jury without so much as changing a quiver.

Furthermore, she testified, there was no truth to suggestions of the prosecution that the show had been cleaned up since charges were made against tthe producers.

"The numbers have not varied since the show opened," Miss Hart said coldly.

Arthur Markewich, defense counsel, made an impassioned plea for such a showing.

"I ask your honor to permit the jury to see real evidence in this case," he said. "You cannot describe things like that in words and do them justice."

The court denied the application and the jury, which had been excluded during the argument, was readmitted to the courtroom.

Miss Hart, pausing to confide to reporters that she was wearing woolies today, returned to the witness stand and displayed to the jury the elastic mesh leotard, a flesh-colored garment invisible even from the front row, which she said she wore at all times during her strip-tease.

The defense counsel led her up to the point in her performance where she got down to her step-ins.

"Did you remove the step-ins?"

"Yes, sir."

"What were you then wearing?"

"Flowers here and flowers there," Miss Hart replied with gestures.

Markewich then asked Miss Hart to stand up and show the jury what points of her anatomy were covered by the leotard. "Up to here," Miss Hart said, placing her hands well above her hip bones. Over the leotard, she said, she wore a net G-string.

She never removed any of the three flowers in view of the audience, Miss Hart said

Instead, she said, she wrapped a stage curtain around herself and removed the upper two flowers behind it.

"Then I put on my robe," she said, "and run for the dressing room. If I come back for a bow, I tease them a little bit and pretend that I might take it off."

Soldier's Date With Movie Star Makes Him Dizzy

PHILADELPHIA —(INS)— First Class Private Victor Williams, of the army air forces' ferrying command, is still in a whirl from his "date" with screen actress Janet Blair.

Williams was named the lucky escort when his letter, telling a stage door canteen committee why he should have a date with the lovely lady, was judged best of those submitted.

"I'm so glad to meet you," Miss Blair said when Private Williams was presented to her in the railroad station. Then she and her entourage were whisked away to a press interview. One of the movie committee waited long enough to give the soldier a theater pass to while away the afternoon.

That evening, Williams, a handsome lad from Camden, N. J., had dinner alone with Miss Blair—with the exception of the cinema gents who crowded all the surrounding tables.

A trip to the stage door canteen completed his date, where Private Williams had only the army, navy, marine corps, and a large portion of Hollywood to share Miss Blair's company.

The awards are decided on the selections above. We would really appreciate it, though, if you would write a note saying what you DO NOT LIKE and . . . also . . . WHY YOU LIKED some of the good ads.

We sincerely want your suggestions and ideas of how we may improve our advertising service for your benefit. Write your letter in your own way! It's the thoughts and suggestions that matter. You are not being "judged" by your letters. Actually they have nothing to do with the awards . . . but . they will be helpful by giving additional information to our merchants.

Your criticisms and suggestions will be given to the merchants to help them to improve their advertisements BUT the merchants will NOT be given the names of those who write the letters. This is so you may say just what you really think without embarrassment.

MEATS, POULTRY PASS GRAIN IN WAR PRICE RISE

Quarter Century Ago Wheat, Corn Led Increase When Europe Fought 'at Home.'

(By Associated Press)

CHICAGO—Agricultural price rises during the first full year of American participation in the war are reminiscent of what happened a quarter century ago but, at the same time, mute evidence of the different effect of two wars upon the farm.

The first anniversary of Pearl Harbor will find market prices of major farm commodities, which usually soar in wartime because of the immense needs, approximately 20 per cent above a year ago. Some prices have risen only slightly; others sharply. Efforts to bridle wartime inflation have been partly responsible for the fact that prices are not higher.

Market observers studying price trends during the two wars say the significant thing is not the general rise, which was to be expected, but which commodities were most directly affected.

In the last war the price of grains responded most quickly. Wheat soared above $3 a bushel, corn above $2, rye almost to $3. Prices of meat animals and other livestock produce such as dairy products and eggs followed but more slowly.

In the past year the situation has been the reverse. Grains, the bulk of which are used to fatten and nourish livestock, have lagged while meat animals and livestock products have soared.

The reason, market men said, lies in the basic differences between the effects of the two wars upon the nation's agricultural economy. It also lies in the fact that government price stabilization control has had a very important market effect, with federal agencies both supporting prices and attempting to check their rise beyond certain limits. There was much less of this during the last war.

A quarter century ago the cry from allied Europe still intact and fighting on its own soil was for bread and grains with which to maintain its own agriculture. Now, with enemy occupation of the bulk of Europe, finished foods such as meat and processed dairy and poultry products are in most demand. As a result, vast surpluses of grain have been piled up in this country, at present burdening on prices but nevertheless vital if livestock output is to be expanded and Europe fed after the war.

Wheat sold around $1.17 a bushel here the day before Japanese bombs fell at Pearl Harbor. A month or so later the price was up about 20 cents but since then almost half of the gain has been lost. In 1917, wheat soared to $3.45 and when the government stopped trading in futures, the price was pegged at $2.17.

Corn prices rose from 75 cents to almost $1 in the weeks following Pearl Harbor but most of this gain has since been lost. A quarter century ago corn soared from $1.21 to $2.86 but by the end of the first year of American participation all the gain had been erased. Oats have lost all of a 10 cents upturn following Pearl Harbor.

On the other hand, hog prices rose almost $6 per hundredweight the past year to a 22-year peak of $15.70 and still show a 37 per cent advance over last December 7. Cattle have risen more than $3 to above $17 for choice beef, or slightly higher than prices prevailing in April 1918. Twenty-five years ago hogs rose from $16 to almost $20 but lost more than half this advance in the first war year.

In the past year butter prices have advanced 32 per cent to near 46 cents a pound for best grade in the Chicago wholesale market. Eggs have risen 18 per cent to near 40 cents a dozen. These are ceilings.

At the end of the first year of American involvement in the last war butter was quoted around 42 cents and eggs around 35 cents, with butter two cents lower than in April, 1917, and eggs only about three cents higher.

Cotton prices have advanced more than a cent a pound from levels that prevailed a year ago. This compares with more than 11 cents 25 years ago.

War Brides Form Group to Assist U.S. War Program

CLEVELAND—(INS)—Wartime children are being cared for by a "foster-mother's" organization and soldiers on leave are entertained by USO volunteers, but wartime brides are not only supporting themselves while worrying about their young husbands, but also find time to make patriotic use of their spare time.

Proof of their desire to be helpful is shown in the formation of Cleveland's most exclusive and newest club—the War Brides' club—an organization of young women married on or after October 25, 1941.

"We hope to do what we can toward strengthening the home front," Mrs. May E. Brewer, spark plug and leader of the group said. "There are lots of ways we can help out in after office hours and working together; we ought to be able to accomplish a great deal."

At present the brides are working on a bandage project. Other activities include volunteer nursing aid work at local hospitals and serving as USO hostesses on call. Many of the brides knit and a course for air raid wardens has also been started.

RIDES U. S. DIVE BOMBER IN RAID OVER SOLOMONS

Writer Tells How It Feels To Drop Incendiaries From Hurtling Plane.

(How it feels to ride a bomber attacking the enemy on the Solomons is vividly described in the following dispatch from Robert Brumby, International News Service correspondent at Guadalcanal. Risking his own life, Brumby nevertheless forgot his fears to pay sentimental tribute to his fellow newspaperman, Jack Singer, the I. N. S. writer killed during a naval engagement in the South Pacific.)

By ROBERT BRUMBY
(INS Special Correspondent)

GUADALCANAL — (Delayed) —If you have ever ridden a runaway roller coaster hurtling through ack-ack and machine gun fire you have a pretty fair idea of what it feels like to ride a bomber on attack.

The ride I took today was a combination dive and low level bombing sortie over Jap territory. Previously I had watched from a nearby beach other bombers riding out the storm of black ack-ack and machine gun fire as they loosed their loads on the marauders from Tokyo.

Our objective was to spread incendiary bombs on a party of Japs that had landed last night under the cover of darkness. Naval Lieut. MacDonald Thompson, of Seattle, Wash., with whom I rode, carried out his mission with dispatch and telling accuracy.

We took off in a group of three torpedo bombers led by Lieut. Al (Scoffer) Coffin of Indianapolis.

"They want to play rough, so let 'em have it," Brig. Gen. Louis Wood told the group before taking off. The Japs got it, all right, in a long line of white and blueish black flame that trailed us along the palm fronded area near the beach like a necklace on a lovely, green evening gown.

We had expected heavy ack-ack and possibly some Zeros. We ran into few of the deadly puffs but what we did encounter was enough. No Zeros jumped us, however.

Lieut. Thompson saw to it that the Japs had an almost impossible target. Once leveled out from a dive of about five thousand feet, the slender, brown eyed Washingtonian hedge-hopped the swaying trees and dipping valleys like a runaway express train. The hurtling ship must have looked monstrous to the Japs.

All the time we were hurtling through the air I couldn't help but think of Jack Singer's magnificent account of the ride he took on a torpedo bomber in an attack on a warship. That took guts. This was child's play in comparison.

In the first place the Japs are notoriously poor shots with ack-ack. When you head into the blazing guns from a ship you are asking for trouble that is sure to come. The gunners today were relatively few and handicapped by being in wooded spots on the ground. We hedge-hopped so low they had little or no time to get the range. Going into a warship is different. You must run a screen of steel firing in your face.

We failed to see a single Jap. It was hard to distinguish any small object travelling at such terrific speed and siz-zagging like a drunken Whirlaway.

Thompson climbed in circles to begin the delivery of Molotov cocktails. I pulled the safety belt tighter, foolishly felt for the rip cord on my parachute, which I wouldn't have had time to use anyway once we levelled off.

We went in in a fairly long dive. A few puffs of ack-ack gave us a desultory greeting from Tojo. Thompson had revved the machine up. I grabbed my stomach. The jerk when we came out wasn't half as bad as I expected. Thompson explained later that we had gone in easy. My imagination had done the rest.

Machine guns opened up as we zoomed and dipped over hill and down into valley. None hit us.

We zoomed out to sea.

"Look at your bomb load," came the staccato voice of Lieut. Coffin, leader of "The Buzzard Brigade," as he calls the daring kids under his command.

"Several bombs have jammed," Coffin said. No command accompanied the words.

"Okay, sweetheart," Thompson replied. "I'll go back for another run."

He pointed the snub nose almost straight up. We climbed swiftly. My spirits fell as rapidly. We had come out of the sortie unscathed.

Going back was like being called in for a second rodding when you were a school kid. I couldn't get out. So we rode back, a roaring monster of flame tossing devastation on the wings of a whistling trade wind.

Thompson dropped his load. Headed back for the sea. I never saw water look so beautiful. Being over the topaze waves meant being out of range of Jap guns. It felt swell.

The shoreline was now ablaze. The Molotov cocktails had hit their marks. The Japs had been treated as they give it—rough as Gen. Wood had ordered.

Winging our way home I did a sentimental thing. On the way to the plane I picked up a small flower. It wasn't much of a flower. But it was the best I could get.

As we roared over the blue sea, I pushed the flower through an aperture in the fuselage. It drifted down in memory of Singer, a swell guy who died a lonely death in the Pacific in pursuit of duty.

30 WOMEN START TEST COURSE TO LEARN TO BE AUTO 'NURSES'

(By United Press)

MORRISTOWN — Thirty determined Ohio women have taken a last look at their stoves, brooms and typewriters and stepped into the role of full-fledged automotive mechanics in a civilian defense experiment, believed to be the first of its kind in the nation.

The women, graduates of an extensive 13-week course in auto mechanics and truck operation sponsored by the Ohio department of highways, will go into active civilian defense work in Belmont county and along the Ohio river.

They will be prepared to meet such emergencies as evacuation, operation of demolition trucks, ambulance service and scrap collection.

Mrs. J. L. Linard of Bellaire, co-chairman of women's civilian defense activities for Belmont county and chairman of the Women's Volunteer Service corps, organized the training course under the supervision of State Highway Director Hal G. Sours.

The project, a part of Ohio's "all out for victory" program, presented all phases of auto mechanics, traffic, safety and manipulation of heavy trucks and cars under blackout difficulties.

The women mechanics were presented certificates of recognition last night from the American Women's Voluntary services by Judge Clifford Belt, Belmont county coordinator of civilian defense.

Yes, Jane, I know I'm late— Say . . . what did you tell me about the car last night?
I just said cars will be harder to start this winter. They're older and batteries weaker with people driving less. Why?
That's what the garage man just said—but where did you hear it?
On the radio—the SOHIO REPORTER. All about Guaranteed Starting— people need it as a wartime precaution. But, Harry— what's this about a garage man?
Had to have him start the car! Sorry to be late for dinner!
Oh, Harry, the roast! And to think a SOHIO starting guarantee would have paid that garage bill for you. I hope the meat is TOUGH!

CRAWFORD GIRL WINS NATIONAL 4-H CLUB AWARD

BUCYRUS — Turning out winners in 4-H club activity has become a habit in the Lester Ulmer family of North Robinson.

Wednesday, in competition with 4-H club contestants from all parts of the United States, Miss Dorothy L. Ulmer, youngest of the three Ulmer daughters, was adjudged among the nine winners of the design and construction contests at the 4-H club congress in Chicago.

Miss Ulmer, who won the right to compete in the national event by being selected first place winner in the Ohio State contest in September, went to the Chicago congress Saturday in company with Miss Mary Wiseman, Crawford county demonstration agent, who is serving as chaperon of the Ohio representatives at the congress.

First of the Ulmer daughters to achieve mention in 4-H club work was Margaret, now Mrs. Robert Lytle, who was selected as the Ohio girl to go to the national congress with a demonstration team in placing a pattern on material. She later served as advisor of her 4-H club and later continued her work in home economics as county demonstration agent in Sandusky county.

Jeannette, second daughter, was third high in the style review at the Ohio State fair while a senior in North Robinson high school. Also a 4-H club advisor for several years, she is now a teacher in home economics at Bradnor.

The newest winner does not aspire to a career in home economics but is planning a future as a hospital technician. She will be graduated at North Robinson high school in June. Seven years in 4-H club work, the last year of which she has served as an advisor, is her record.

The only brother, James, in 4-H club work for seven years is now putting his training into practice operating a 150 acre farm near North Robinson.

Reveal Recent Marriages of Ashland Couples

CALLS FOR MORE BLOOD DONORS

MILLERSBURG — It is not too late to register as a blood donor for the mobile blood unit which will visit Millersburg, Dec. 10 and 11 from 10:30 a. m. to 4:00 p. m., according to R. R. Dieterich, chairman of the local Red Cross. The quota has been increased for both days and Holmes county must not fail to have enough donors, he said.

Appointment cards have been sent to the Red Cross blood donors. It is expected that the appointments will be kept. If it is necessary for changes or cancellations to be made, it is essential that the Red Cross officials be informed at once. This can be done by calling the Red Cross office.

GETS 50-YEAR MASONIC PIN

C. J. Scroggs Honored By His Lodge at Bucyrus For Long Membership.

BUCYRUS—One of the few to be so honored, C. J. Scroggs, retired Bucyrus attorney, was presented with the 50-year jewel for Masonry during installation ceremonies for new officers at the Bucyrus Masonic meeting Tuesday night. H. E. Cook, past master of the local lodge and 33rd degre Mason, made the presentation.

Only two other Bucyrians, J. Madison Rogers and Daniel Greenich, hold similar honors.

Loren A. Knell assumed leadership of the Masons during the installation, replacing Adam Boryczka, who was presented with an unusual gift in appreciation of his services. On the face of the watch, instead of the customary numerals, appears his name beginning with the A at the top of the face.

Other officers installed were senior warden, S. K. Sollars; junior warden, Elmer Conner; senior deacon, James Jones; junior deacon, A. J. Halliwell; treasurer, H. E. Cook; secretary, T. C. Kiess; tyler, Ivan Mack, and trustee, Adam Boryczka.

Installation followed an oyster supper. The event also marked the first anniversary in the new Masonic home.

SAPPHO CLUB PLANS CHRISTMAS PROJECT

Members Decide to Send Gifts to Children at Friendly House; Luncheon-Meeting Held at Women's Club.

AT THE LUNCHEON-MEETING of the Sappho club which was held at the Women's Club on Wednesday, the 29 members present decided to send gifts to the children at Friendly House as their Christmas project. Hostesses for the luncheon were Mrs. H. L. Princehorn, Mrs. P. M. Eliot, Mrs. J. H. Finefrock, Miss Mary Proctor and Mrs. E. C. Jenkins.

Guests yesterday were Mrs. George W. Hall, Mrs. James W. Stonebraker and Mrs. L. T. Loose. During the business session the club's purchase of a war bond was reported. Vocal selections by Mrs. D. H. Hughes were Cyril Scott's "Lullaby," and "Where the River Shannon Flows," by James R. Russell. Her piano accompaniment was furnished by Mrs. H. H. Clingan.

"Rivers of the British Isles" was the title of an interesting paper given by Mrs. J. M. Johnston. Piano duets by Mrs. A. C. Butterfield and Mrs. Clingan were "La Sorella," a Mexican number; "Country Garden," by Percy Grainger, and "Gavotte," by Gluck-Brahms.

Mrs. Jenkins will be hostess for the Christmas program at the Women's Club on Dec. 16 at 2:30 p. m.

Christmas Party Held Yesterday By Mothers' Club

The annual Christmas party honoring the teachers of the Bowman street school, was given yesterday afternoon at Johns Park, by the Bowman School Mothers club.

The room was attractively decorated with stars, pine cones and Christmas trees. A Santa Claus dressed to represent his part, had charge of the gift exchange, presenting the gifts to the mothers and teachers, and boxes of candy to the children. Over 120 mothers, teachers and children were present at the affair. Mrs. Mellett won the door prize.

A contest of baby pictures of mothers was won by Mrs. Mary Woolard. The next regular meeting of the club will be held in the school in Miss Ruth Duke's room, Jan. 6.

Program On China Given at Meeting

"China Today" was the theme of the program presented Tuesday evening at the meeting of the Wesleyan Service Guild of the Ontario Community church at the home of Mrs. Ruth Taylor. Decision was made to present a Christmas offering to China relief. Guests were the Misses Marilyn and Betty Taylor.

Miss Nora Mabee and Mrs. William Mabee were associate hostesses. Gifts were exchanged by members. Contest winners were Mrs. Fred Wolf, Mrs. L. C. Stingel and Mrs. Earl Sauders. The holiday theme was used when lunch was served. Mrs. Walter Andrews and Mrs. Everett Smith will entertain at the former's home on Jan. 12.

PLAN HOLIDAY TEA.

Plans were made to have a Christmas tea and gift exchange Dec. 15 when members of the Wayside Bible class met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Bessie Dona in Little Washington. Mrs. Glenn Cornell led devotions. Mrs. R. E. Snyder conducted the business session and Mrs. E. A. Conant had charge of the lesson.

Revelers Club Holds Meeting

Pinochle was the main diversion when the Revelers club met at the home of Mrs. George Mensch, 74 Raleigh avenue, last evening. High scores were won by Mrs. Don Handwork, Mrs. Mary Young and Mrs. Herbert Friday. The short business meeting was conducted by the president, Mrs. Mensch. Two guests, Mrs. Young and Mrs. Handwork were present.

At a late hour, when lunch was served at a long table, patriotic colors were used as the color scheme. The centerpiece was a bowl of mixed fruit with lighted tapers at either end of the table. Favors were red, white and blue baskets. A Christmas party and gift exchange will be held Dec. 16. The hostess will be announced later.

SOCIETY & CLUBS

Make Gifts Gay and Practical

By SUSAN BARDEN

With Christmas drawing nearer every day and with gift shopping time growing shorter and shorter, we thought that a few ideas on what to give both Him and Her might be helpful.

The presents that are shown in the three above photographs are both gay and practical, and are of the type that would be appropriate to give acquaintances, friends and relatives, and they are not too expensive.

Everyone wants to be particularly thoughful and cheery this holiday, so though gifts may not be as costly as in former years because everybody is buying War Bonds, there will still be quite an exchange of remembrances.

For a man's man, whether he is in the armed forces or working in a munitions factory, there is a sportsman's shaving set in handsome containers created by famous American painters of sports and wild life. It contains a bland, free-lathering shaving soap in a duck-shaped decoy shaving bowl, a shaving lotion that is soothing and softening, and a bottle of talc that is slightly tinted to make it invisible.

The babochka that is being shown by Delores Del Rio is both a lovely gift, but also a patriotic gesture to our Russian allies. It is a Katinka kerchief which is being sold for the benefit of the Russian War Relief. The scarf is 26 inches square and is made of rayon challis, hand-blocked in four colors, with dancing Russian figures. It may be worn around the head or as a neckpiece, and it comes in two combination's one in magenta with a navy, aqua and gold design, and another in green, with scarlet, gold and aqua. It will help serve double duty as a Christmas present by making the recipient happy, and helping some wounded Russian soldier, war orphan or evacuee.

The third suggestion is one of the delightful Attar of Petals preparations put up in hand-painted apothecary jars which can be used lter on as pretty dressing table bottles. There are bath essences, dusting powder, cream, toilet water all in the same lovely fragrance.

Holiday Dinner Honors Teachers Wednesday Night

The second grade teachers of Mansfield and Miss Helen Hartmann and Miss Dora McLeod, supervisors in the city schools, were guests of honor at the home of Miss Mary Engwiller, Linden road, last evening at a lovely 6 o'clock holiday dinner.

The teachers were seated at a long table beautifully decorated with a Christmas tree centerpiece surrounded by evergreens, pine cones, tall red lighted candles in crystal holders. Green sprays tied with red ribbons were used as place cards.

The evening was spent in group singing of Christmas carols, accompanied by Miss Hartmann on the melodian. Prizes in a contest were awarded to Miss Doris Mann and Miss Louise Andrews.

Assisting Miss Engwiller were the Misses Anne Verba, Sarah Morrison, Leona Snyder, Mrs. Edward Falk and Mrs. Glenn Hoffman. The next meeting will be in February with Miss Clara Patton as hostess.

Club to Present Gifts to Needy

The annual Christmas party of the Golden Link club was held at the Staiger tea room Wednesday afternoon. After a short business session, Mrs. Ray Loughman gave several Christmas readings. Six card games were the diversion of the afternoon. Prizes were won by Mrs. Edward Wendland, Mrs. Emma Gamber and Mrs. Steven Balliett.

Dinner was served at a long table, centered with a lovely bouquet of poinsettias. Needy families will be remembered with gifts and donations from the club. Mrs. Otto Miller will be the hostess at the next meeting, Jan. 6.

Class Meets With Mrs. W. E. Boals

A new member, Mrs. William Friend, was welcomed into the W. W. G. class of the United Brethren church, when it met Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. W. E. Boals, 44 Leppo lane. Plans were made to pack a Christmas basket for a needy family. Mrs. Herbert Doolittle had charge of the devotions and a duet was presented by Mrs. Dwight Kunkle and Mrs. Douglas Miller.

Miss Virginia Pollock was a guest. Contests were won by Miss Vera Yohn and Mrs. Robert Shrewsberry. Christmas gifts were exchanged. Luncheon was served on individual trays with Christmas decorations.

HELEN TOLLES WEDS J. HOWARD BANKS

Marriage Solemnized Nov. 27 In U. S. Naval Chapel at Noroton Heights, Conn.; Bride Will Continue to Reside Here.

MR. AND MRS. DEAN TOLLES, R. D. 1, announce the marriage of their daughter, Helen, to J. Howard Banks, of Noroton Heights, Conn., son of Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Banks of Lucas. The wedding took place Nov. 27 in the U. S. Naval chapel at Noroton Heights. Chaplain Ferdinand J. Loungway performed the double ring ceremony at 6:30 p. m.

Nuptial music consisted of "Indian Love Call" and Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" played by a friend of the bridegroom at the U. S. Naval school. Ferns and yellow and white chrysanthemums decorated the altar which was illuminated by candlelight.

The bride's floor-length white gown was fashioned with a long waist, full skirt and short puffed sleeves. The collar was Martha Washington style. Her double-tiered fingertip length veil was held in place by a pearl tiara and she wore a necklace of pearls, gift of the bridegroom. The bride's shower bouquet was of white carnations, baby's breath and fern, tied with white satin ribbons.

Mrs. O. W. Epps of Cleveland was her cousin's only attendant. She was attired in a rose zircon gown made like the bride's. There was a pink caranation in her hair and she carried a colonial bouquet of pink carnations and ferns. James S. Tolles, brother of the bride, served as best man.

Autumn leaves and flowers decorated the tables when the wedding supper was served at the Roger-Smith hotel after the ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Banks went to New York City on their wedding trip. For traveling the bride wore a powder blue suit with black accessories.

Mrs. Banks was graduated from Weller high school and is employed in the office of the Richland County Agricultural Conservation association. For the present she will continue to reside with her parents. Mr. Banks, a graduate of Lucas high school, the U. S. Naval Radio school and Miami university at Oxford, is a radio man in the U. S. navy.

Election of Officers Held By Sorority

Newly elected officers of Alpha Pi Sigma sorority are Mrs. Louise Beal, president; Miss Isabelle Kass, vice president; Mrs. Catherine Miller, financial secretary; Mrs. Eva Imler, corresponding secretary; Miss Dorothy Byrn, master of work; Mrs. Velma Tickner, prelate, and Mrs. Alice Sorgen, sergeant-at-arms.

The family that the group will help for Christmas was selected and war stamp corsages were sold. Bridge was played after the meeting Tuesday. The Christmas party will be held Dec. 15 in the Colonial room on Park avenue west.

Bible Club Has Christmas Tea At Heath Home

A Christmas tea was enjoyed by 17 members of the Ruth-Naomi Bible club and one guest, Mrs. Swigart, at the home of Mrs. John Heath, 347½ West Third street, Wednesday afternoon. Mrs. Swigart is president of the Federation of Bible clubs. Devotions were led by Mrs. D. W. Cummins. Each member responded to roll call with a Christmas verse.

Mrs. E. B. Davis had charge of the program. After the Pledge of Allegiance to the flag and singing of "America," Mrs. C. A. Lorimer told a Christmas legend. A poem, "The Angel's Song of Peace," was given by Mrs. C. L. Allen. Mrs. R. E. Race told a story entitled, "The Candle in the Forest." Vocal duet by Mrs. C. C. Vermilya and Mrs. Davis was "O Little Town of Bethlehem," and "The Origin of the Mistletoe and Holly Tradition" was told by Mrs. G. L. Cairns.

Poems which concluded the program were "Keep the Lovelight Shining," given by Mrs. A. H. Au, and "A Christmas Silhouette—1941," by Mrs. Davis. Tea was served by Mrs. Cummins from a table covered with a pastel blue cloth and centered with red roses and white chrysanthemums. Christmas cookies and a large white cake decorated with red poinsettia blossoms completed the appointments. Mrs. John Howard will entertain the group at her home, 584 West Fourth street, on Jan. 6.

Study Child's Imagination To Curb It

By GARRY C. MYERS, PH. D.

Some mothers are really marvelous in their understanding of the little child and his imagination. They go with him into his enchanted world. Moreover, they continue firing the imagination of the little tyke by reading continually to him.

Doing this so well, the parent or parents may overlook the need of balance in the child's development, the need of his making real things with his hands and of playing with real children of his age. When a child creates his own playmates right out of the air, they always fit his wishes. He doesn't have to adapt himself to them.

To illustrate, a young mother deserted by her husband, who though working spends her late afternoons and evenings constantly with her youngster, writes:

"Since she could talk Linda has placed the blame and responsibility of all undesirable habits and happenings on some one else.

"From the age of one year eight months she has had imaginary playmates. She had her hands and feet named—Charlton, Margaret, Aunt Kate, and Jane. Consequently, anything that came up for correction, Linda Ann didn't have a thing to do with it. If she kicked, it was Charlton or Aunt Kate. If her hands did something bad, it was Margaret or Jane. And if these did not completely cover the case, another did it. She continually said, 'I told Charlton not to put his feet on the wall paper,' I told Catherine not to go into the street.'

"I tried to play along with her playmates, taking them all to walk, bathing a half dozen every night, kissing them all good night, etc. . . . One night, when she was over three, she said, 'Mother, I've un-named my hands and feet.' So that helped some. Then she gradually quit talking so much to the imaginary companions.

"It is bad enough at home, but now she is in kindergarten and once she came home and reported to me, 'Mother, all the little children at kindergarten were bad, so they let me stay in a room by myself.' She of course, had been bad and was put in a room by herself.

"She turns all sorts of punishment into self-praise. If she falls down, it was Mary's fault. If she tears a book, it was Tom's fault, and now she is blaming all her little friends for everything.

"What suggestions can you offer to help her accept her responsibilities or at least quit shifting them? I enclose a stamped, self-addressed envelope."

Writing this mother, I advised her to go on in her sympathetic fashion but when she saw that the child deserved punishment she should punish her. But the mother should not question her about wrong acts she merely suspected. The child should learn to make things with her hands and should be encouraged to play more with children her own age. Then she will have to look out for herself and take what is coming to her.

"Pitfalls of Love"

(A Sequel to Marriage Meddlers)

By ADELE GARRISON

I paid tribute to Georges' self-control as Mary spoke his name.

"'Georges?'" he queried wonderingly. "Is that the name, then, of your leading man? I thought it was Stepan Redfield, and I have no solicitude for him."

"Bravo, Georges!" Mary said. "You are putting on a wonderful act. You really ought to join the cast. The way you made Stephen into Stepan was a master stroke, but it's no use. I know you, darling. Come out from behind those whiskers and say 'hello' to your old comrade-in-arms!

"Auntie Madge!" turning to me with simulated incredulity, "do you mean to say you've been sitting opposite this first prize in theatrical make-up all this time, and haven't recognized your old friend, His Royal Highness, King Georges of Trees?"

"She is not as blind as you think," Georges answered for me. "She recognized me a few minutes after I came in, and now you know me too. Yes, I am that unhappy fugitive, Georges' with a price upon my head."

He had struck the right note to appeal to Mary's sympathies and offset her amusement at his ridiculous get-up.

"Oh, Georges, forgive me!" she pleaded. "I should not have jested about the disguise which has saved your life. But,"—her eyes twinkling again, "it is a laughable get-up, you must admit."

Loathes Disguise.

"Yes, I know," Georges said despondently. "You can't imagine how I loathe it. And I don't think it's so clever, either. Both you and Aunt Madge recognized me."

"That's because we had a chance to study you," Mary said consolingly. "I don't know what set Auntie Madge thinking, but when you watched Olina and me night after night at that restaurant, and especially when you took Aunt Madge to your table and gave her such a buzz, I began asking myself what face was behind that beard—a face that didn't belong to America. And when I found you here, I put my eyes and wits to work and found the answer.

"But now, before you tell me all about it, don't you think I ought to get Noel and Olina and the older Veritzens over? We've all been so anxious about you, and they'll be overjoyed to see you."

Madge Makes Amends.

I saw Georges wince, and came promptly to his rescue.

"Mary, Mary," I chided, "you must remember that Georges is a hunted man and we must look first to his safety. He is going to place himself in my father's hands, and the Chief will decide whom he shall see and when.

"If you both will excuse me for a moment, I will go to Father in the next suite and tell him. Georges, that you are ready to come over. Don't answer the door under any circumstances, Mary."

"I won't," she promised, as I went through my bedroom to the camouflaged door behind which my father was listening. But as I opened it I heard Georges' voice, low and impassioned.

"Mary! Mary!" he exclaimed. "To think I have to meet you, after all the years, from behind this ridiculous disguise!"

HOROSCOPE

For Friday, December 4.

Although this may be a moderately lively and ambitious day, with the energies and abilities centered on definite programs and objectives, yet the way is beset by various forms of upset, opposition, disappointment and obstacle, making it difficult to make the cherished goals. There may be strange or surprising efforts to delay or disintegrate, and very likely there may be stubborn antagonism or want of co-operation from elders or old institutions.

Those whose birthday it is may encounter a year in which their energies and ambitions may be disposed to aim at high and important objectives, but these may lead them to walls of opposition, stubborn obstacles, and static situations as well as to a sudden disruptive condition arising from a strange, irregular or foreign and unsuspected source. It will be wise to circumvent these disintegrating forces by shunning all forms of extravagance of funds, energies and even acts and speech.

A child born on this day although having energy, enthusiasm and high ambitions may overdo itself by extravagance, generous impulses and excess good nature, thereby inviting imposture.

MAKES FINE A WAR BOND

GLOVERSVILLE, N. Y. — (U.P.) — City Judge Arthur Aulisi has his own idea about what constitutes a judicial sentence in these days when American democracy is being put to the test. So when Anthony Albanese was convicted of an assault charge, Judge Aulisi sentenced him to buy a $25 war bond.

Chicken Fried In Deep Fat

1 chicken cut into quarters
1 egg ¾ cup milk
1 cup sifted flour
½ tsp. salt Frying fat

Cut chicken into quarters or more pieces if desired, according to weight of chicken and number of pieces to be served. Break joints so pieces will cut apart easily when cooked. Dip into batter made of egg, milk, flour and salt. Have fat ready in deep kettle heated to 350 degrees F., enough of it to cover the chicken without over-flowing kettle. A deep-fat thermometer clipped to side of kettle is a help in getting fat to right temperature. Lower chicken, piece by piece, into hot fat, being careful not to overcrowd kettle. The temperature of the fat will drop below 350 degrees when raw chicken is put in. Regulate it so that the meat fries at 300 to 325 degrees F. At this temperature a quarter of a 2½-pound chicken will need probably 10 to 15 minutes to cook down to the bone. Lay the cooked pieces on absorbent paper to drain and keep them hot in heated pan or crock until served. Some cooks prefer to take out the pieces when they are lightly browned, drain them on absorbent paper, and finish in a moderate oven (325 degees F.) for 20 to 30 minutes.

Caramel Pudding

1½ tbsps. cornstarch
½ c. brown sugar melted and browned
1 pt. milk Pinch salt

Scald milk in double boiler, add cornstarch and salt, mixed to paste with cold milk. Add brown sugar which has been melted and lightly browned in frying pan. Cook over hot water 15 minutes, chill and serve with cream or plain.

Truth Told About Facial Treatments

By MME. QUI VIVE

One hears the queerest things! A woman who is supposed to be smart remarked that once one starts taking facials, they must continue else the feminine countenance will fall into a state of wreckage. And two other women agreed on this belief. A kettle of nonsense, that's what it is. One might as well affirm that if you take a walk every day for a month and stop, you'll be prostrated and have to stay in bed.

Methods of facial treatments vary according to different methods, but they all work toward the same ends. There is no strong-armed thumping as in the days of yore. The work is done with delicacy and precision. During her period of training the operator learns about facial muscles, their relationship to each other, the locations of nerves and arteries. She knows what she is about. She has her diploma and license to prove it.

A minor benefit is an hour of relaxation, a luxury few women have these hurried days. In high class shops there is quiet everywhere. The poor dear who comes in for her overhauling is urged to rest, not to talk. Facial muscles must be relaxed if the massage is to be effective. So she closes her eyes, heaves a sigh of contentment. Sometimes she sleeps.

The skin gets a cleaning that casual face washing cannot accomplish because the manipulations remove dead skin scales and dust from the pores. The treatment begins with the application of a cleansing oil, after which a heavier emollient is used. The neck and shoulders are included, especially the back of the neck that can do very well with a little attention, since it is frictioned with scarves and coat collars.

The cream not only acts as a soothing agent to the skin surface, but it is worked into the underlying fibers. This is no skimming over with a cosmetic, as happens during the home performance. More and more cream is used. The flesh loves it, laps it up.

No beautician will claim that she can efface deep wrinkles; nothing but plastic surgery will do that. But she can tone muscles, strengthen tissues, keep further havoc away.

Massage gives relief from facial tension, a common trouble these days of terrible anxieties.

Upward strokes from collar bones to the jaw line are employed. Skilled fingers sweep around the eyes to do away with fatigue shadows. Frown lines and those extending from nostrils to lip corners are treated to a light rotary movement.

Brisk tapping and slapping follow. An ice rub brings color to the cheeks. Then on with the endearing make-up. It's grand.

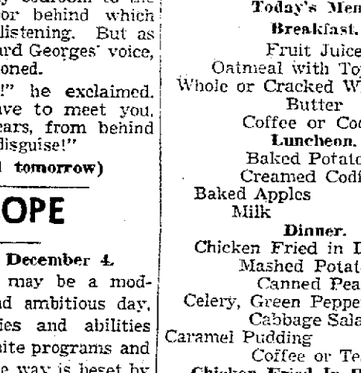
BARCLAY ON BRIDGE

By Shepard Barclay

"The Authority on Authorities"

CEILINGS AND FLOORS

We hear so much about "ceilings" now, in connection with prices of various items, that bridge players have a new way of explaining various bids. Every bid, soundly made, carries with it both a floor and ceiling. The holding which caused it contains at least a certain amount of strength, but not more than some other certain amount. It is a mistake for a partner, of one who has made a certain bid, to consider that the hand is either an absolute minimum, down to the floor, or a maximum, up to the ceiling. It may be either, but probably lies somewhere in between.



(Dealer: East. East-West vulnerable.)

East	South	West	North
1 ♥	1 ♠	Pass	2 ♠
Pass	3 ♠	Pass	4 ♣
Pass	4 ♠

That could have been the bidding of this deal in a rubber bridge game, or South might have snapped to 4-Spades after hearing his partner's first bid, but neither of those things happened. Actually North passed the 1-Spade and South, a thorough cardsman, took ten tricks, but not a game because he was not in one. North, after the hand, explained that, if South had a minimum overall, he would have needed those two aces to even make 1-Spade. But why should North feel sure it was a minimum? He should have bid something and thus give his side a chance if South had a good hand.

It required neat play to take ten tricks. The heart 9 lead went to the A, the 5 was won by the J, and the spade K sent to the A. West returned the club J to the A and South then ran his other spades, plus the heart K. East discarded down to the diamond K-J and heart 10. South then threw him in with the heart 7 of the 10, and East had to lead into the diamond Q-10 in the South hand and the A-5 dummy, giving declarer the last two tricks.

South was downcast over his nice play not producing game. The club return instead of a diamond on the fourth trick had given him the one break he needed for ten tricks.

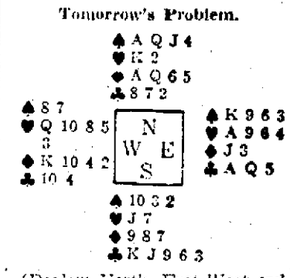
Tomorrow's Problem.



(Dealer: North. East-West vulnerable.)

What principle of play governs the use of East of his spade K and club A against 3-No Trumps by South on this deal. West having opened the spade 8?

DEM SECRETARY AT 28

COLUMBUS —(INS)— Youngest woman in Ohio to take the office of secretary of the Democratic state executive committee is Mrs. Helen Burke Bonner of Barberton. The 28-year-old private secretary to Joseph T. Ferguson, state auditor, was appointed to the post by State Chairman Darrell S. Jones. She is the fourth woman in the state to hold that position during the last 35 years.

WANTED! 1000 WOMEN WITH POOR COMPLEXION

. . . to try this remarkable skin aid for JUST 10 DAYS!

If your skin is rough, dry, unattractive-looking, or marred by ugly externally-caused pimples and blemishes, read this carefully!

Thousands of women have already made wonderful improvement in their complexions with a medicated formula which nurses were among the first to discover as an aid to skin beauty . . . a formula which scores of doctors themselves use in the care of their skin, and often recommend to their patients.

This formula is Noxzema Medicated Skin Cream. In the next few days we want 1000 women to try it on the Special Offer outlined below. Use it for just 10 days. Then feel your skin; let your fingertips and your mirror prove how effective it is. That's because Noxzema is not just a cosmetic cream. It's a MEDICATED FORMULA that does two important things: 1—it helps smooth and soften rough, dry skin. 2—it helps heal externally-caused pimples and blemishes. And, in addition, it has a mildly astringent action.

Literally thousands of women have made this trial and have been overjoyed to see the wonderful improvement in their skin. Miss Norma L. Lodes, of Minneapolis, writes; "I work in a drug store and was most unhappy because of externally-caused blemishes on my face. Now Noxzema has helped change everything . . . people tell me I have a beautiful complexion, and I frequently suggest Noxzema to our customers." Miss Dee Chapman, Los Angeles, says: "I like off-the-face hats but was embarrassed by ugly externally-caused blemishes on my forehead. Then a friend recommended Noxzema and not only did it help heal the blemishes, but my skin became softer and smoother, too."

Try Noxzema for just 10 days. Use it as a night cream and as a powder base. See for yourself how much it can do to help make your skin softer, smoother, lovelier!

SPECIAL OFFER! For a limited time only, you can get the big 75¢ jar of Noxzema for only 49¢ (plus tax). Take advantage of this Special Yearly Offer. Get a jar at any drug or cosmetic counter—and start this new complexion care today!

FCC REPORTS SALARIES OF 'PHONE FIRMS

642 Officials Get Salaries Ranging From $10,000 To $206,000.

(By United Press)

WASHINGTON—The Federal Communications Commission reported today that 642 officials of 48 telephone and telegraph companies received salaries ranging from $10,000 to the $206,250 paid President Walter S. Gifford of American Telephone and Telegraph company as of Dec. 31, 1941.

Fifty telephone companies had no employe in the more than $10,000 class but each of the nine reporting telegraph companies had officials that did. All telephone and telegraph companies covered by the report had 422,127 persons earning less than $10,000.

The average salary of a telephone company president in 1941 was $36,000. Telegraph company presidents received an average $23,513, the highest in this group being the $65,000 paid president Albert N. Williams of Western Union Telegraph Co., whose predecessor, R. B. White, who resigned June 1, 1941, had received $85,000 annually.

The companies reporting employes (not by name) in the more than $10,000 class, the number in each company, and the top salaries paid by each, included:

American Telephone & Telegraph Co.—149; president, $206,250; vice president and director $100,000; vice president (general counsel), $90,000; vice president, $66,000, two other vice presidents at $66,000 each; vice president, $60,004; vice president, $55,000; one vice president $50,000; comptroller, $50,000.

Cincinnati and suburban Bell Telephone Co.—seven; president, $42,000; Lorain Telephone Co.—one, president, $12,000; Northwestern Bell Telephone Co.—16; president, $40,000; vice president $25,000.

Ohio Bell Telephone Co.—19; president, $50,000; vice president, $33,000. Tri-State Telephone & Telegraph Co.—one; general counsel, $15,000; McKay Radio & Telegraph Co.—two president, $15,000. Postal Telegraph, Inc.—six; president, $45,000; executive vice president, $30,000.

Western Union Telegraph Co.—29; president, $65,000; chairman, $40,000; first vice president $35,050.

It didn't take an adding machine to determine the number of titles for motor vehicles issued by the Richland county clerk of courts office in November, or the previous month for that matter, figures released from the office indicated today. Titles for four cars were issued in November, the same number as in October, but the titles issued for trucks dropped to zero.

The efforts put forth by the Mansfield Tire and Rubber company and its union local in bringing to the attention of its workers the importance of the 10 per cent payroll savings plan in connection with the purchase of war bonds were recognized by Secretary of the Treasury Henry Morgenthau, jr., in the December war bond booklet issued to industries as an aid to increase the purchase of bonds. Three pages are devoted to advertising and a letter issued jointly by the industry and its Local Union No. 17. One page carries a copy of the letter that went to each employe while a double-page spread shows the teamwork in advertising demonstrated by the company and labor.

North Franklin avenue's "Moonlight Coal Delivery association" is out of business, temporarily at least, while three of its members escape winter's blasts in the heated comfort of the county jail and Columbus work house. Yesterday Municipal Judge G. E. Kalbfleisch fined each of a trio $50 and costs, directing that each serve out the penalties in the workhouse. A fourth man drew a 30-day term in county jail. They were arrested Monday and Tuesday nights by Patrolmen Floyd Bowers and John Grohol when caught carrying sacks of coal from north end coal yards to a North Franklin avenue address. According to police the market price was 15 cents a sack—the price of one "shot" or a short jug of cider.

GIVEN POWER TO RECOMMEND ALLOTMENTS

Some Officials Say Question of Federal Control Still Divided Despite Setup.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON — President Roosevelt's executive order naming Secretary of Interior Ickes as "petroleum administrator" today was believed to have answered the nation's need for someone to determine military, and essential industrial and civilian requirements of this critical war product.

Ickes was instructed by the chief executive not only to determine these factors but also to "compile and analyze" such estimates and submit them to the War Production board along with recommendations for the allocation of petroleum to fill the requirements.

Heretofore, strong criticism has been voiced at the lack of a definite government plan for dividing oil supplies among the various users. One high official recently asserted that rationing—a program for distributing a scarce article—was useless unless supported by definite information on how much of the commodity is available and how much is needed.

The armed services remain the final authority, of course, on military needs. Ickes will consult with them as to their requirements.

The order was interpreted by some officials as leaving unanswered, however, the criticism of divided federal control over phases of the oil problem, with several agencies sharing responsibility. Budget Director Harold Smith described it as the best definition of functions and division of responsibilities that could be achieved at this time.

WPB and OPA sources asserted that the primary effect of the order was to "legalize" Ickes' operations. Previously he had functioned as "petroleum coordinator" by virtue of a personal letter from the president dated May 28, 1941.

Informed officials called attention to only two noteworthy changes in the petroleum-control set-up:

1. Ickes, instead of the WBP, will determine when and where petroleum shortages exist and order rationing;

2. Ickes now possesses "legal" authority over the petroleum industry and the output of oil-producing states. Heretofore he merely "recommended and advised."

The office of price administration will continue to set petroleum price schedules and make adjustments.

HOLLYWOOD

—By Robbin Coons

HOLLYWOOD—The new pictures:

"Journey for Margaret" is a story of children in war, and it pleads their cause eloquently. In so doing, it becomes a powerful appeal for the war effort and the defeat of enemies who have subjected the young to bombs and fire and the consequent wrecking of their emotional and nervous systems.

Coons

Margaret is one of the waifs rescued from a blitzed London home and taken to a children's home where sympathetic understanding as well as physical care is given. She is a terrified, pitiful little object, dry-eyed, clutching the one tie she has with "home"—her "imagesium" bomb. A young American correspondent, doing a story on the home, is "adopted" by the children, particularly by Margaret and a little boy he previously had pulled from the rubble of another blitz.

With sidelights on the effective use of sound psychology in treating the children's war fears, the story deals with the newsman's efforts to win passage for the pair back to New York and his wife, who herself had lost an expected child during a London bombing.

Robert Young, Laraine Day, Fay Bainter are excellent, but the children — 5-year-old Margaret O'Brien and 4-year-old Billy Severn—steal the show. Little Miss O'Brien, with no kiddie coyness whatever, gives a sensational dramatic performance, with a crying scene that makes you want to go—personally—and kick Hitler in the pants.

MORE remote from today's strife is Mervyn LeRoy's filming of James Hilton's "Random Harvest." Greer Garson and Ronald Colman are involved in this romance, best of the current "amnesia cycle." Colman is the World war I memory-losing veteran, befriended and married by showgirl Garson. It is no surprise when an accident restores his former identity as a man of wealth, obliterating his memory of the romantic interlude. Nor is it surprising that the wife turns up as his quietly efficient secretary, hiding her identity and suffering in silence while he seeks the missing link with his past and incidentally becomes engaged to attractive Susan Peters. Overly long, "Random Harvest" is still a tender and moving love story, acted and directed sensitively, and just the thing for those who haven't enjoyed a good cry lately over fictional woes. Watch Susan Peters.

TAKEN BY DEATH

C. E. Hammack, 67, Ex-Mansfield Resident, Succumbs.

FREDERICKTOWN — Charles E. Hammack, former Mansfielder, 67, died Wednesday afternoon at his home in Fredericktown after a lingering illness. Mr. Hammack lived in Mansfield until about 11 years ago. He formerly was employed by the old Logan Gas company here. Mrs. Hammack was active in social and welfare work in the city.

Funeral services will be conducted Saturday at 10 a. m., at the Meredith Funeral home in Fredericktown with Rev. A. M. Bosler, pastor of the Chesterville Methodist church, officiating. Burial will be at Lancaster.

SAY SAUSAGE CONTAMINATED

Inspectors Charge Spoiled Meat Used at Armour Plant.

CLEVELAND —(U.P.)— A warrant was issued today at the request of the sanitation department which charged Silas Thompson, superintendent of the sausage works of Armour and company, located in the Northern Ohio Food terminal, with packing spoiled meat into sausage.

Dr. Arthur A. Wilcox, department inspector, ruled that the meat was spoiled, confiscated from 40 to 50 pounds for evidence and ordered 119 barrels of meat set aside.

Inspectors testified that Thompson admitted the sausage was being made from spoiled meat, but said he claimed the meat was "still edible."

PLANES HUNT MISSING ACE

Scour Alabama, Florida Areas For Hero of Bataan; Fear Plane Forced Down.

(By International News Service)

WASHINGTON — Army planes and ground units today were conducting an extensive search over Alabama and western Florida for Lieut.-Col. Boyd "Buzz" Wagner, crack flying ace of World War II who has been missing on a routine flight since Monday.

Wagner, a 26-year-old hero of air battles over Bataan and the southwest Pacific, has been unreported since taking off from Eglin Field, Fla., approximately 45 miles east of Pensacola, for a flight to Maxwell Field at Montgomery, Ala.

It is believed that the Johnstown, Pa., flier may have been forced down or crashed somewhere in Alabama, since his route from Eglin Field to Maxwell Field would have covered about 150 miles to the north.

If Wagner was forced down in the Gulf of Mexico or in swamps of western Florida, he would have been far off the direct air route to Maxwell Field. Unless the daring fighter pilot wandered from his course, his hereabouts soon should be located, it was pointed out.

Wagner was one of the nation's first heroes of the present war, shooting down at least five Japanese during the first two weeks of the Philippine campaign. He was awarded the distinguished service cross for destroying an undetermined number of enemy planes on an airfield at Vigan, P. I., on Dec. 16.

Service Employes Strike for Raise At Portsmouth

PORTSMOUTH —(U.P.)— Portsmouth service department employes struck today in the waterworks, waste collection, and street maintenance divisions and pressed demands for wage increases.

Police, firemen and city hall workers, however, were not involved.

The municipal employes asked for a 25 per cent wage increase. The present scale is from 47½ cents to 65 cents per hour with top salaries averaging $135 per month.

Trucks and other mobile equipment remained in garages, but strikers agreed to keep the city filtration plant operating and to handle emergencies such as broken water mains.

A compromise offer by the city to boost wages from five to 15 cents an hour was rejected. City Manager James F. Parkinson said the proposed wage increase would amount to about 11 per cent compared with the 25 per cent asked.

RITES FRIDAY

Former Bucyrus Engineer Succumbs At Painesville.

BUCYRUS — Funeral services will be conducted Friday afternoon at Bucyrus for Robert Stuckey, 59, former chief engineer of the Hatfield-Penfield company at Bucyrus, who died Wednesday at Painesville.

Mr. Stuckey was employed in the Painesville branch of the Diamond Alkali company. Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Elizabeth Stuckey, and a son, Robert, of Massillon.

KANSAS HOUSEWIFE STARS AT 'MET' AS PONS CATCHES COLD

(By United Press)

NEW YORK — Because Lily Pons had a cold, an unknown Kansas housewife was catapulted to stardom at the Metropolitan Opera House last night.

Ten days ago, Marie Wilkins of Lawrence, Kansas, had never sung "Lakme," never appeared in opera in this country, and was just another promising girl badgering the Metropolitan opera for a chance.

Today, she is the girl who took over Lily Pons' role on 24 hours' notice, and sang it so well that a full house applauded and the critics approved.

"But boy," she said, "if only I get a chance to sing it again without a day and a night of rehearsals immediately before."

Her chance came about through a series of coincidences. Last year she competed on the Metropolitan auditions of the air without winning. Three weeks ago she came back to New York to try her luck in the auditions again. Pelletier, music master at the Met, suggested she learn the soprano role of "Lakme." On Monday of this week, he called her and asked her if she would stand in for Miss Pons at rehearsal because Miss Pons had a cold and they needed a soprano who knew the role for Tenor Jacques Gerard to rehearse with.

"Even then I never dreamed I'd get a chance to sing it," she said, "but I couldn't help hoping."

On Tuesday, her wish came true, and last night, after a grueling day and night of rehearsals, fittings, and advice, she took over the role.

"She is a fine musician," commented Edward Johnson, manager of the Met. "Her work is only begun."

HELD TO JURY

Shelby Man Bound Over on Manslaughter Charge.

SHELBY—William Felter, Shelby, was held to the county grand jury today under $1,000 bond on a manslaughter charge which grew out of the death of Frank Sonanstine, 71, Sharon township farmer, Sunday night.

Felter asked to be bound over to the jury when he was taken before acting Mayor Frank C. Long yesterday at Shelby. He was released after providing bond.

The charge was filed by Sonanstine's brother, Charles R. Sonanstine, who accused Felter of striking the elderly man in the chest during a quarrel last Aug. 30 in a Shelby tavern. The brother said Sonanstine's death resulted from the injury he received, since several ribs were broken by the blow.

CIO LEADER INDICTED

CLEVELAND—(AP)—An indictment handed up by the federal grand jury charged that David Balint, in applying for citizenship papers in 1940, falsely swore that he never had been arrested. District Attorney Don Miller said the records show that Balint had been convicted of illegal possession of liquor. Balint is president of Local 1,666 of the CIO United Steelworkers.

15 NAVY MEN MISSING, DEAD

Liberty Boat Capsizes In Narragansett Bay.

NEWPORT, R. I. —(U.P.)— Fifteen navy men are dead or missing after a small Liberty boat capsized in Narragansett bay, navy officials announced today.

Five bodies have been recovered, two survivors still are in hospitals and coast guardsmen were seeking 10 others.

The survivors were identified as Second Class Seamen J. B. Kelly and L. J. Hinson.

ILLNESS FATAL

Mrs. Beatrice Hale Pollock Taken By Death.

Word had been received here today of the death of Mrs. Beatrice Hale Pollock, 68, former Mansfield resident, in Jamestown, R. I. She died Tuesday following a lingering illness.

Mrs. Pollock, who was the wife of Capt. E. T. Pollock, a retired naval officer, was born in Mansfield and left here about 40 years ago. Capt. Pollock was from Mt. Gilead.

Mrs. Pollock was an aunt of Mrs. Minnie Cox, Mansfield, and had other relatives in this area. Also surviving, besides the husband, are one daughter and three grandchildren, all of Jamestown, R. I.

Funeral services will be conducted Friday in the Church of the Coventry, Washington, D. C., and burial will be in Arlington cemetery.

38 ARRESTED

Germans Held in Argentina on Evidence Supplied by U. S.

BUENOS AIRES—(AP)—The federal prosecutor filed charges today against 38 persons—all Germans or of German origin—roundup in a sweeping investigation based on evidence supplied by the United States.

The prosecutor, requesting the ministry of interior to deliver the prisoners from trial, demanded the maximum penalty of six years in prison.

Kentucky Girls To Arrive for NYA School Friday

The first contingent of 18 to 25-year-old Kentucky girls to enter Mifflin NYA War Production Training Center for later placement in war industries will reach Mansfield Friday from Jackson, Ky.

At least 50 girls from the Kentucky area will be installed for training by Dec. 15, Thomas Jenkins, director at the center, said following a conference yesterday with regional NYA and United States Employment Service officials. Seventy-five others are to follow.

Girls arriving tomorrow will be placed in all units of training at the center including machine shop, radio, automotive mechanics and acetylene welding, Jenkins said. Some of them have had previous employment training and therefore are expected to be ready for placement within the next six or eight weeks.

Brought here to offset the shortage of women for training in northern Ohio the Kentucky delegation is expected to open a third shift at the center in the near future. Two training shifts have been in operation for several months.

Seventy girls are now in training at the center and applications are open to 16 to 25-year-old women in this area although the minimum age limit for Kentucky applicants is 16.

YES . . . MANSFIELD WILL REMEMBER PEARL HARBOR!

Here Are the High Spots of Mansfield's Great Plan to Remember Pearl Harbor

1. EVERY CITIZEN of Mansfield gets an opportunity to "Tell the Boys" in service that they are being backed up with War Bond purchases.
2. EVERY HOME in Mansfield will be contacted by a Civilian Defense messenger at 7 P. M., December 6, as a part of our first "all-out" test mobilization.
3. EVERYBODY in Mansfield who is regularly buying Bonds on a Payroll Savings Plan gets a chance to list their names in the special "Remember Pearl Harbor" edition of The Mansfield News-Journal.
4. EVERYBODY in Mansfield who is not on a payroll savings plan can add their name to the list by buying a "Remember Pearl Harbor Bond on December 7.
5. EVERY FIRM or commercial organization, employing three or more persons is offered a new opportunity to buy War Bonds regularly on a Payroll Savings plan.

That's How We'll Buy $100,000.00 In War Bonds . . .

That's How We'll Remember Pearl Harbor

1. During the Alert on the evening of Sunday, December 6th, the Civilian Defense will deliver to your home a "Remember Pearl Harbor War Bond Pledge."
2. If you are already buying Bonds on Payroll Deduction, just check and sign the pledge accordingly. This is your way of telling the boys in service that you are backing them with bonds. On Monday, December 7th, deposit it in any of the Remember Pearl Harbor boxes that you see at your place of employment, in the banks, stores or postoffice. YOUR NAME WILL THEN APPEAR IN THE MANSFIELD NEWS-JOURNAL ON SUNDAY, DECEMBER 13th, AND WILL BE SENT TO MANSFIELD MEN AND WOMEN IN THE ARMED FORCES ALL OVER THE WORLD.
3. If you are NOT on Payroll Deduction, please check and sign the pledge accordingly. On Monday, December 7th, present yourself at your bank, the postoffice, the Ohio Fuel Gas Company, or the Ohio or Madison Theatres at 12:25 P. M. or later and BUY ONE OR MORE WAR BONDS. Leave your Remember Pearl Harbor pledge where you buy your bonds and YOUR NAME WILL THEN APPEAR IN THE MANSFIELD NEWS-JOURNAL ON SUNDAY, DECEMBER 13th, AND WILL BE SENT TO MANSFIELD MEN AND WOMEN IN THE ARMED FORCES ALL OVER THE WORLD. Of course, you have plenty of time this week to arrange for Payroll Deduction through your employer (10% or more if possible) and then you can sign the Pearl Harbor pledge under Payroll Deduction.
4. If the one copy of the pledge to be left at your home on Sunday, December 6th, is not sufficient to accommodate the War Bond purchasers in your family, you may clip additional copies of the pledge from The News-Journal when it is published on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, December 3, 4, and 5.
5. When you buy War Bonds to Remember Pearl Harbor you can redeem the War Savings Stamps that you have accumulated. It is not necessary to have a complete book. Bring what you have to your bank, postoffice or theatre.
6. REMEMBER, FOR YOUR NAME TO APPEAR IN THE NEWSPAPER TO BE SENT TO THE ARMED FORCES, YOU MUST SIGN THE SPECIAL "REMEMBER PEARL HARBOR PLEDGE."

DIVE PLANES 12 MILES-A-MINUTE

Young Army Fliers Hurtle Through Air Faster Than Sound.

FARMINGDALE, N. Y.—(INS)—Two youthful army lieutenants have accomplished the almost impossible by diving powerful fighter planes at 725 miles an hour—more than 12 miles a minute.

They hurtled through space at a speed greater than that of sound, so rapidly in fact that the joy sticks of their Republic P-47 Thunderbolts "froze" and they had to rely upon mechanical devices to right their ships.

It was disclosed today that the new aerodynamic and speed frontiers were established on Nov. 15 at an east coast air base by Lieut. Harold Comstock, 22, of Fresno, Cal., and Lieut. Roger Dyar, 26, of Lowell, Ohio.

The terrific speed with which the young fliers plunged earthward neither awed them nor caused either to lose control of his faculties. Said Lieut. Dyar:

"Naturally we didn't have time to recite Shakespeare but we could read our instruments, understand them, and think of what to do.

COLLECTS $300 FOR TAX STAMPS

COLUMBUS—(INS)—Bits of paper that most people throw away may make possible the realization of a blind man's lifetime dream.

Charles Ballinger, 24, blinded at seven in an accident, has been given $10,000 in used sales tax stamps which, when redeemed for the $300 the state refunds, will pay for a Seeing Eye dog to guide him. The stamps were collected by friends.

PONDER EFFECT OF RATIONING

Pastors Believe Church Attendance May Be Hit By Fuel Scarcity.

CLEVELAND—(INS)—Ministers, priests and rabbis are wondering how gas rationing will affect attendance at their worship services.

Though many of the larger downtown Protestant churches which draw congregations from all greater Cleveland expect serious losses, neighborhood churches believe they may show a proportionate gain.

Bishop James A. McFadden of the Cleveland Catholic Diocese expressed the belief that churches of a nationality origin likely would lose the most.

"Families that have been traveling long distances to attend these churches may in the future, attend their parish church," the bishop said.

"It is difficult to say what will happen before the gas rationing goes into effect."

Other spiritual leaders in Cleveland were found to be advocating the "share your car" plan, but how well it will work, they commented, is problematical.

PUPILS USE VEGETABLES TO MAKE PLANE MODELS IN SCHOOL

TOLEDO (AP)—They're making airplanes at Devilbiss high school from carrots and potatoes.

It's all part of a pre-flight course in aeronautics suggested by civil aeronautics authority and is teaching the students basic principles in flying.

Miss Geraldine Larkin, the instructor, wanted some method of making "quickie" models with all the important control surfaces manageable at the wish of the operator. She hit upon the vegetable idea. All the necessary material can come from any kitchen. A carrot or potato, bits of cardboard, straight pins, buttons, scissors and a paring knife.

The cardboard wing may be pinned to the top of the carrot for a highwing plane, to the bottom for a low-winger or inserted in slits for a midwing monoplane. The propeller is attached to the nose by placing a pin through the center of the vegetable and a button becomes the engine.

Inventiveness and creativeness get free play and have inspired some variety of ships and design. One boy placed an extra piece of potato to represent a reserve fuel tank to be dropped when empty; others formed a three-blade propeller, air speed indicators and mounted guns.

LET US MAKE THIS A GOOD CHRISTMAS

Our chain of joyous, untroubled Christmases is broken. This Christmas will be different...but we can still make it a good one. All that Christmas means to us is in peril today. The peace and good-will, the warmth and cheer, the joyous gathering of family and friends . . . all these may be lost to us unless we dedicate ourselves wholly to the task of winning the war. We must, with valiance and courage, preserve our Christmas spirit, so it will shine out for all the world to see. This Christmas will be one we have ever known, must be a good Christmas.

ISSUES RULES ON FUEL OIL

Hale Says Consumers Cannot Purchase, Receive, Transfer Without Coupons.

Consumers of fuel oil cannot purchase, receive or transfer heating liquid, including kerosene or coal oil, without ration coupons, Rodney Hale, chairman of the fuel oil panel of the county war price and rationing board ruled today.

Other rules issued by Hale are as follows:

The entire coupons sheet must be presented to the supplier and no coupons may be detached by the consumer.

The consumer must, at the time of detachment by the supplier, insert on each coupon the complete serial number contained on the sheet of coupons.

Consumer should see to it that his supplier inserts, upon the "Record of Deliveries" portion of the coupon sheet, the required information at the time of delivery of the fuel oil.

The consumer must, within five days, surrender to the issuing war price and rationing board all coupon sheets which have expired or whose coupons have been completely delivered.

The consumer should notify his supplier of the amount of his fuel oil ration, so that only rationed quantities may be delivered.

The value of one unit of indefinite value coupons has been fixed as 10 gallons of fuel oil for the first heating period. Consumers should watch their newspapers for announcement of the unit value for the remaining heating periods.

The war effort demands that everyone conserve fuel oil, convert oil burners to other non-scarce fuel, insulate premises in every possible way, and use every conceivable method to reduce consumption of liquid petroleum products.

Hale also ruled on application blanks as follows:

The method used in distributing the fuel oil applications (Form OPA R-1100, 1101, 1102, and 1103) through dealers has undoubtedly resulted in a surplus stock of these forms remaining in the hands of some dealers. Since the two heating applications (Forms OPA R-1100 and 1101) will be used for late applicants, and the other two applications (Forms OPA R-1102 and 1103) will be used three months from the time the original rations were issued, it will result in a saving if dealer supplies of these forms are returned to the boards.

ORE DEPOSITS IN N. CAROLINA ATTRACT WPB

Experiments Now Under Way To Expand Sources of Material There.

(By United Press)

RALEIGH, N. C.—Waxing demand and warning supply of metals and minerals vital to waging a mechanistic war are turning North Carolina's "mineral sample case" into a mineral powder horn.

The state's mica industry, already largest in the nation, is undergoing broad expansion to counterbalance effects of a War Production Board order halting further importation of the important war mineral from India and Brazil, and other mining operations are being stepped-up by WPB request.

State geologists are making extensive studies of North Carolina corundum to gather information for the WPB and recently have completed field surveys of copper, chromite and minerals for the Federal government.

Henry J. Kaiser, record-breaking West Coast engineer and ship builder, is reported studying the possibility of using huge deposits of olivine in western North Carolina as source of magnesium for his proposed giant cargo planes. Reconstruction Finance Corp. aided mining companies are springing up around Asheville, N. C., to exploit other ore deposits.

Only difficulty of obtaining use of rationed electrical power from TVA is impeding development of a potentially large-scale mining industry, State Conservation and Development department officials claim. Practically every kilowatt of electricity available is needed by a large aluminum producer and other war industries operating in the area.

Dr. Jasper L. Stuckey, chief state geologist however claims the time is arriving when the need of ores locked in the rocks of western North Carolina will force the state mining industry into full bloom.

North Carolina according to views expressed by WPA officials, appears the "brightest hope in the nation for corundum," Stuckey said in a recent report.

Deposits of olivine, chromite, mica, vermiculite and other nonferrous and ferrous minerals in perioditoc formations of the Great Smoky mountains are too badly needed in the war effort to be neglected much longer, he predicted.

These ores could be extracted profitably and have been under consideration since the days of World war I, he pointed out, but until submarines began preying on American shipping, it seemed cheaper to import than develop a native supply.

Lists Ways to Quiet Children's Fears In Wartime

STATE COLLEGE, Pa. —(U.P.)— A program to keep the emotions of children and young persons stable during wartime has been outlined by Marion McDowell, associate professor of home economics at Pennsylvania State college.

Professor McDowell — placing the burden on teachers and parents — proposed that emotional security may be aided by: frank and sympathetic talks with children about their war problems; having children take part in joint activities of parents and teachers; closer co-operation between the parents and teachers; character strength shown by teachers and parents, and maintenance of an inspiring goal.

"What youth needs is to be able to think through and talk about their problems," Mrs. McDowell stated. "Young children worry about who will take care of them if their father is killed and older youths fear the draft and yet feel that they are cowards to fear it."

GIVES OLD PRESSES

CINCINNATI, O. —(U.P.)— Real bullets rather than religious booklets soon will roll from two printing presses which the Methodist Publishing house has donated to the nation's scrap metal pile.

SETS UP SHARE RIDE DEPOTS

State Department Establishes 183 Stations For Workers In Northwest Ohio.

COLUMBUS—(ANS)—Dale Archer, public relations representative of the state highway department, was praised by Director Hal G. Sours for establishing 183 share-ride depots in highway divisions since July 1.

Comprised of Defiance, Paulding, Van Wert, Putnam, Allen, Hancock, Hardin and Wyandot counties, the division was broken up into five transportation areas, planned upon accessibility to war plants and congested communities.

These areas are Kenton, Findlay, Defiance, Van Wert and Lima, including all territory from the Indiana state line east to a line drawn approximately from Fostoria south to Mount Victory and from Wapakoneta north to Bryan and Napoleon.

Each area has at least 30 transportation depots set up in centrally located business places which are open to the public during the day and a portion of the night.

As a special aid to workers, both drivers and passengers, neighborhood motorists are asked to register at a transportation depot so they may compare driving schedules and form share-ride clubs. The local transportation chairman then uses the information to generate additional interest.

DIES AT 75

BUCYRUS — Funeral services will be conducted Friday at 2 p. m. at the Munz funeral home for Mrs. Louise Welty, 75, native of Germany, who died at her home on the Quaker road Tuesday, following an illness of six years. Burial will be in Oakwood cemetery.

Survivors include six children, Mrs. Esther Banks and Mrs. Ida Spahr of Toledo; Mrs. Cora Kafer of Sulphur Springs; Mrs. Helen Butte of Holmes township; Arthur and Elmer at home, a brother, Carl Miller of Galion; 15 grandchildren and three great grandchildren.

U. S. WAR BONDS

"Remember Pearl Harbor" is more than just a battle cry or a campaign slogan at the Constance Market. With over 3000 Mansfield boys in service, including 2 former Constance employes, our employes here on the local food front, decided to back up our fighting men by going "all out" in buying War Bonds. Constance is proud to report that the following employes have signed the Treasury Department's Payroll Deduction Pledge to have 10% of their weekly salary taken out for War Bonds.
